

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy, one year $1.50
One copy, six months 1.00
One copy, three months .50
No deduction from these rates under any circumstances.

As we are compelled by law to pay postage in advance on papers sent outside of Ohio County, we are forced to require payment on subscriptions in advance.

All letters on business must be addressed to BARRETT & BRO., Publishers.

DIRECTORY.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

CIRCUIT COURT.
Hon. James Joseph, Judge, Owingsboro.
A. L. Morton, Clerk, Hartford.
E. L. Sullenger, Sheriff, Owingsboro, Hartford, C. W. Phillips, Sheriff, Hartford. Deputies: G. W. Bunker, Hartford; S. P. Taylor, Beaver Dam; J. W. Cooper, Fosterville; S. L. Fulkerson, Cerulay.
Court begins second Mondays in May and November, and continues three weeks each term.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.
Hon. J. A. Murray, Judge, Covington.
Hon. Joseph Haycraft, Attorney, Owingsboro.
E. L. Sullenger, Sheriff, Hartford.

Court begins on the first Mondays in March and September, continuing two weeks each term.

COURT OF QUARTERLY COURT.
Hon. Newton, Judge, Hartford.
Capt. Sam. K. Cox, Clerk, Hartford.
J. P. Sandifer, Attorney, Hartford.

Court begins on the first Monday in every month.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS.

Attalaud, Justice, Hartford.

W. G. Foster, Surveyor, Cromwell.

A. B. Baird, School Commissioner, Hartford.

POLICE COURTS.

Hartford—H. C. Cummings, Judge, second Monday in January, July and October.

Beaver Dam—J. P. Cooper, Judge, first Saturday in January, April, July and October.

W. G. Foster, Judge, Cromwell.

Cromwell—H. A. Montague, Judge, second Saturday in January, April, July and October.

W. G. Foster, Judge, Cromwell.

Hamilton—Wm. Hamilton, Sec., Judge, post-office address, McHenry.

Cromwell—W. H. Lewis, Judge, second Saturday in January, April, July and October.

W. H. Lewis, Judge, Fosterville, July and October.

Rosine—R. W. Wadling, Judge, J. F. Lewis, Marshal, Court held first Saturday in January, April, July and October.

JUSTICES COURTS.

FORTSVILLE.

B. P. Newell, June 6—Sept. 5 Dec. 3

James Miller, 6 Sept. 5 Dec. 3

BUFDORD.

P. D. Taylor, June 12—Sept. 10 Dec. 10

J. L. Brookford, 13 Sept. 12 Dec. 12

HARTFORD.

A. B. Bennett, June 12—Sept. 9 Dec. 9

J. D. Byers, 21 Sept. 23 Dec. 23

ROCKPORT.

W. L. Rowe, June 22—Sept. 21 Dec. 21

A. J. Brown, 23 Sept. 26 Dec. 26

ROSEN.

W. H. Miller, June 18—Sept. 17 Dec. 15

J. D. Miller, 19 Sept. 17 Dec. 17

CHROMWELL.

E. O. Porter, June 21—Sept. 19 Dec. 20

Melvin Taylor, 21 Sept. 20 Dec. 20

CONSTABLES.

Fortsville—George Bradford, Post-office address, Fortsville.

Hartford—H. B. Taylor, Post-office Beaver Dam.

Brattelport—T. B. Bishop, Post-office Center-town.

Rosine—W. W. Ezell, Post-office Rosine.

Cromwell—J. W. Daniel, Post-office Cromwell.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Baptist—Services third Sunday and Saturday night in each month and Sunday night preceding.—W. P. Bennett, Pastor.

M. E. Church—South—Services third Sunday and Saturday night in each month—Rev. T. J. Randolph, Pastor.

LODGE MEETINGS.

A. M.—HARTFORD LODGE, No. 150—Meets third Monday in each month.

W. M. Moore, W. M. H. Weinhemmer, Secretary.

R. A. M.—KEystone CHAPTER, No. 110—Meets second Monday in each month.

H. W. Weinhemmer, Secretary.

I. O. G. E.—HARTFORD LODGE, No. 12—Meets in Masonic Hall, Hartford, Ky., every Thursday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to members of the Order to visit us, and all such will make themselves at home.

CLAUDE J. YAGER, W. C. T. GROSE WILLIAMS, W. Sec.

D. E. THOMAS, L. M.

POST-OFFICE BULLETIN.

The Eastern mail leaves at 2:30 P. M., and arrives at 1 P. M.

The Western mail leaves at 9:30 A. M. and arrives at 1 P. M. The mail leaves for Cincinnati, Springfield, Fortsville, Haynesville, Lyons and Bellville every day; Hartford every Wednesday and Friday, and arrives at 1 P. M. Leaves Hartford every Thursday at 6 P. M., and arrives Saturday at 3 P. M.

The mail leaves for Belpoint, Pleasant Ridge and Masonville leaves on Tuesday and Friday at 1 A. M., and arrives Monday at 1 P. M.

The Centerville mail arrives at 10 A. M., and departs at 11 A. M. Wednesday.

R. P. ROWE, Postmaster.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

S. P. ROBY,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in any of the Courts of Ohio or adjoining counties. He is also Notary Public. Office over R. P. Rowe's grocery store.

D. D. WALKER, E. C. HUBBARD,

WALKER & HUBBARD,

LAWYERS.

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in Ohio and adjoining counties, and in the Court of Appeals.

H. D. MCHENRY,

SAM. E. HILL,

MCHENRY & HILL,

ATTORNEYS & COUNSELLORS AT LAW

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice in Ohio and adjoining counties, and in the Court of Appeals.

W. M. F. GREGORY,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of claims. Office, Grand Jury room.

J. EDWIN ROWE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of claims.

CHAS. M. PENDLETON,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

HARTFORD, KY.

Prompt attention given to the collection of claims.

SANDUSKY HOUSE,

OWENSBORO JUNCTION.

This House has just been overhauled and refined, and is in first-class repair for the entertainment of guests.

The rooms are large and well ventilated.

Extra comfort is given at all times, with the best the country affords. Charges reasonable.

W. H. SANDUSKY,

Proprietor.

THE HARTFORD HERALD.

"I COME, THE HERALD OF A NOISY WORLD, THE NEWS OF ALL NATIONS LUMBERING AT MY BACK."

VOL. 5.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY, OCTOBER 8, 1879.

NO. 40.

WHOLESALE HARDWARE.

HART & CO.,

DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,
CUTLERY AND GUNS,
208 West Main Street, between 7th and 8th.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Largest Assortment in the South. Lowest Prices. Special Inducements to Cash and Short Time Merchants. Prices Mailed upon Application. Give us a trial.

SPECIALTIES.

Miller Brothers' Pocket Knives, Eureka Wringers, Cross Cut Saws, Coal Shovels, Coal Picks, etc., Diamond Pointed Horse Nails, the celebrated Hart Axes, Warranted, Gold Dollar Axes, Farm and Church Bells, Also Novelties, Stationary and Pressed Tin Ware.

37-38

JOSEPH MULHATTAN, Traveling Salesman.

J. ESTEY & COMPANY,

BRATTLEBORO, VT.

Our new Organ, expressly designed for Sunday Schools, Chapels, etc., is proving a

GREAT SUCCESS.

Be sure to send for full descriptive Catalogue before purchasing any other.

THE LARGEST WORKS (OF THE KIND) ON THE GLOBE

Illustrated Catalogue sent free.

"OUR PEARL."

BY MATTIE N. BROWN.

A little golden head reclining, oh,
So near my heart;

Two eyes which look their love right into mine,

Two little hands clasped tightly in my own;

Rosy and soft;

A little tongue which though it speaks not,

Wags loud and oft,

A little sunny, round and dimpled face,

Whose light and smile

Drive every lurking shadow from my heart,

A little brain which never yet has had

A single thought;

A heart which the time is yet

Disturbed by naught.

A little hand from the cherub band,

Whose home is Heaven;

A tiny jewel from the Maker's hand,

Not given, nor given,

A little link in sweet affection's chain;

A wee, wee girl;

A little smile which up our home,

THIS IS "OUR PEARL."

Poor Neck News.

POOR NECK, Ky., October 5.

Report of the Commissioner of Agriculture, Horticulture and Statistics for September, 1879.

FRANKFORT, KY., Sept. 30.

We have very little to report with regard to the crop variant from our last month's report.

Oranges.—The fall crop of oranges is reported from all parts of the State as being very small than any we have had in a number of years. The yield per acre is less than for our short spring crop, and probably less than for any other crop.

Dr. J. F. Dewitt.—of Allensville, Todd county, Ky., is visiting friends and relatives in this neighborhood, where he formerly resided, and while here preached a good sermon.

Mrs. Paul.—who has been visiting friends and relatives here for some time, has gone to her home in McCracken county.

Dr. Clayton Wallace.—who has been connected with one of the principal hospitals of New York for a year or so, has returned home looking quite well.

BORN.—To the wife of Isaac Shown, a little son.

Tommy Ward.—son of J. F. Ward, who came very near getting drowned at the ferry on Rough Creek. He was saved by his father and Leslie Hoek.

More next moon.

TORCH.

Correspondence.

STEVENSVILLE, Sept. 28, 1879.

Editor Herald:

Since my last writing

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1879.

Herald for Fifty Cents.

We will send the HERALD to any address from now until January 1st, 1880, for 50 cents. Send us your name and money at once and get the full benefit of this liberal offer.

THE McLEAN County Fair begins next Tuesday and will continue five days. Let's all go and have a big time.

THROCKMORTON, who is said to be the most effective Greenback orator in Ohio, has taken the stump for Ewing.

AFTER all the hullabalooing over California, that election has elected one Democrat to Congress from the second district. Princeton Banner.

THE case of Evans against Commonwealth, taken to the Court of Appeals from the Ohio Criminal Court, has been reversed.

GOVERNOR BLACKBURN pardoned 21 convicts the first 21 days of his administration. No need enlarging the penitentiary or building a new one.

THE new management of the P. & E. R. is as follows: Robt Meek, Superintendent; B. F. Blue, General Freight and Ticket Agent; G. M. Morton, Accountant and Cashier.

THE Owensboro Fair begins to-day, and it is useless for us to predict a success, for they never have any other kind of fair there, in fact, everything about Owensboro now is a success, and the whole town is in a big boom.

WE are indebted to the members of the "Hartford Social Club" for a handsomely gotten up invitation, with gilt monogram, and a "committee" list of the cleverest fellows in the world, to attend their grand Hop at Masonic Hall, Wednesday eve., Oct. 1. We know there was fun in Hartford that night. Owensboro Examiner.

OUR Beaver Dam correspondent replies, this week, to a communication from P. E. Hocker. "Hent" had mentioned a rather peculiar rule in the school, but through no ill will to Mr. Hocker. But the latter took offense and made a personal attack upon the former. Now that both gentlemen have had their say and closed the controversy in the HERALD, we take the present occasion to request all our friends to avoid all personal vituperation in their correspondence to the HERALD. We deem it fair to say here that from now we shall reserve the right to eliminate any part of local correspondence which is calculated to give unnecessary offense. We feel confident that the propriety of this rule will be seen by all our readers. Good never comes to any one from personal wrangling. If other, it is better to keep them unexpressed or else take the good old way of a flat-u and then shake over the result and be friends.

IT is certain that all the fools are not dead, and I suppose it is a fine thing for the population of the globe that it is so. At San Francisco, Oct. 5, Prof. Colgrove, Aeronaut, and C. H. Williams, Manager of Woodward's Zoological Garden, went up in a balloon. The coast-winds were high, and yet the daring sailors went up, but they soon came down, to go up in a different way. The result, to be brief, of their fool-hardy adventure was the death of both parties. Also a special to the Courier-Journal from Vincennes, Ind., of Oct. 5, says: "At 3 o'clock yesterday a balloon was seen to pass this city at a great height." Prof. Wise and a young Burr had ascended in a balloon, the "Path Finder," at St. Louis, and had not been heard from. The balloon had, no doubt, been taken off in an upper current of air. Where the men will land is uncertain, but it is quite likely that they will meet Prof. Colgrove and Williams in San Francisco. It occurs to me that the law should regard every fanatical aeronaut or high rope dancer as insane, and keep them confined, or else adjudicate them guilty of suicide, in a polite way.

Yellow Fever.

THE terrible plague still holds its grip on poor old Memphis. Up to last Saturday night there had been 1,347 cases reported this season, and 403 deaths. There were 68 new cases and 20 deaths last week. The scourge has been virtually confined to Memphis this season, not proving epidemic elsewhere.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Sam'l O. Cooper, a young man of this county, who has been in Texas for some time, returned last week looking well. He will probably remain in Kentucky for some time at least.

Judge Seth Mosley, of Hartford, paid a pleasant visit to our sanctum and parlor—a few days since. The Judge expressed himself much pleased with the completeness of the Examiner office, in all its details. Owensboro Examiner.

Mr. John Doherty, of Rockport, was in town Monday, and gave us a call. Mr. Doherty is a good friend to the HERALD, which fact he very liberally showed, having been a subscriber almost from its inception.

Mr. Geo. W. Gordon, of Cool Springs, was a visitor to our fair last week and also paid this office a visit and left with us a curiosity for our cabinet. It is, we think, a petrified peach or plum seed.

Mr. Squier Maunzy of Dixon, a former citizen of this town, took in our fair last week.

Washington Duke, Esqr., of Daviess county, came to visit the fair and see his old friends and neighbors.

Mr. L. L. Anderson, Secretary of the Legal Aid Society, Louisville, Ky., is in town in the interest of that Society. By the way this is one of the cheapest, safest and best Life Insurance Institutions in the land, giving more insurance for less money than other institutions. Give Mr. Anderson your application while here.

Prof. Edgerton and wife, of Whitesville, are in town, the guests of the Hartford House. The Professor intends teaching a class in vocal music at this place—beginning this week.

Urey Woodson of that spicy little paper, "Muhlenberg Echo," was a visitor at the Fair on Saturday and left for home Sunday morning.

N. J. Harris, Circuit Court Clerk of Muhlenberg county, spent the most of the week at our Fair. He is one of the cleverest, noblest men of our acquaintance, and as good a clerk as Kentucky has in her whole domain. He is a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the next Senate, with due prospect of being the lucky one.

Mr. Felix Rice, of the firm of Mann & Rice, Greenville, spent several days at the Fair and called at this office and renewed his interest in the HERALD for another year.

Dr. J. W. Church, of Greenville, took in our Fair and seemed to enjoy himself well.

Mrs. F. M. Joplin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin and Stephen Bridwell, of Elizabethtown, were in attendance at our fair last week.

On Monday Mr. Alex. Barnett started to Texas. He came in and subscribed for the HERALD before he left. We wish him a successful trip, and a happy home in that State. He deserves it.

THE O. & R. R. work is being vigorously pushed upon the O. & R. road between the Junction and Russellville. The prospect is that a great thoroughfare of travel between Atlanta, Ga. and Chicago, will be opened and we will have a new impetus given to agriculture in Ohio and McLean counties as well as a ready market for the abundant coal beds in the same counties.

FAIR NOTES.

The Hartford Fair was Come and Gone, and a Grand Affair it was.

The Board of Directors of the Ohio County Fair Company are to be congratulated upon their entire success in giving the finest exhibition, in every respect, ever before given on the grounds of the Company. The attendance has been larger than ever before, and never was there a company more willing to contribute the one thing needed of all toward success, viz.: a liberal patronage of all the perquisites, such as eating, drinking and merrymaking. The action of the board in reducing the fees has proved a wise course. The fees were 15 to 20 per cent, below last year, and still the gate receipts were larger than ever—and it is far better to have a larger crowd, even for the same money, for there is a peculiar enthusiasm in a large assembly, which, in itself goes far toward making a success of any enterprise.

The display of stock was good—showing a better grade of all classes of live stock in the several spirited races—both running and trotting. Mr. Yager's roan wagon horse made a fine record—winning the race—making the second heat in 3:15.

The gate-keepers were punctual and obliging.

The water supply gave out the first day of the fair, owing to the dry weather. Mr. Dan. F. Tracy was made committee on water supply, and acquitted himself like a Daniel ought to. He kept barf's full of ice water on the grounds.

There were some features of interest in the way of equestrianism. In the little girls' riding ring, Miss Katie King won the blue.

In the boys' riding ring there were three entries. Master Eugene Pendleton won the blue.

In the old gentlemen's ring, Dr. W. J. Berry was the lucky rider. The Doctor donated his premium to the Fair Company.

There was a ring for colored riders, in which five entries were made. The awards were made by colored judges. The riders all acquitted themselves well. Mr. Clay Kennedy wore the blue.

A negro foot-race was won by Horace Barnes, in a 1/2 mile heat—time, 2:10.

The Rockport Band, in addition to making good music, also made a fine impression upon our community. They never had to call once for a man. They waited once to turn papers and arrange music when called for. They were all sober, and even total abstainers—strictly a temperance band, which is a novelty in these parts. Some of the directors are in favor of making a permanent engagement with the Rockport Band to furnish music for the Ohio Fair Company in the future.

Mr. Obad Chapman was drawn by force of circumstances into the Dining Hall and Confectionery business at the Fair grounds this year. He had no notice whatever until the day the Fair opened, that the work would devolve upon him. Notwithstanding this great disadvantage, he succeeded in providing good food for all who wanted it, and we believe he also saved himself from loss on the bond to the company.

Our enterprising merchant of the Bazaar, made a fine display in Floral Hall at the Fair, and owing to the excessive heat, did a good thing for the "boys" as well as himself in the line of collars, furs, &c. Mr. Anderson understands the value of advertising.

Henry Franklin presided gracefully as master of ceremonies and committee of "Hands Off" in Floral Hall. It is one of the characteristics of idle curiosity to want to handle and see, like doubtless Thomas, that which is not desired to be handled. When boys, or men either, for that matter, visit a printing office, they invariably want to finger the type, and they never know where to put it, and hence cause much annoyance in proof reading. The Floral display was not extensive, but regarded as an experiment, it will no doubt result in a greater interest in the display of art and nature's beauties next year.

List of Awards at the Ohio County Fair.

Ring No. 3, best wagon, Dan. F. Tracy, premium.

Ring No. 5, best single harness, T. S. Duke, premium.

Ring No. 31, best display of tinware, T. D. Davis, premium.

Ring No. 28, best churn, W. H. Dris-eal, premium.

Ring No. 42, best sewing machine, Poole & Bledsoe, premium.

Ring No. 46, best white linsey, Mrs. W. A. Gordon, premium.

Ring No. 47, best plaid linsey, Mrs. J. C. Lindley, premium.

Ring No. 49, best rag carpet, Mrs. Nancy P. Cannon, premium.

Ring No. 49, rag carpet, Mrs. J. F. Collins, certificate.

Ring No. 50, best pair woollen hose, Mrs. C. E. Austin, premium.

Ring No. 50, pair woollen hose Mrs. Thompson Mitchell, certificate.

Ring No. 51, best pair half hose, Miss Sallie Cate, premium.

Ring No. 52, best pair blankets, Mrs. Nancy P. Cannon, premium.

Ring No. 52, blankets, Mrs. Jonathan Mitchell, certificate.

Ring No. 53, best flax linen, home-made, Mrs. G. B. Hocker, premium.

Ring No. 54, best cotton counterpane, Mrs. John H. Barclay, premium and certificate.

Ring No. 55, wooden coverlet, Mrs. L. Baird, premium.

Ring No. 55, wooden coverlet, Nancy P. Cannon, certificate.

Ring No. 56, best yarn, colored, Mrs. Thompson Mitchell, premium.

Ring No. 59, best white yarn, Mrs. Thompson Mitchell, premium.

Ring No. 59, white yarn, Mrs. Nancy P. Cannon, certificate.

Ring No. 60, best silk quilt, Mrs. W. H. Webb, of Louisville, premium.

Ring No. 60, silk quilt, Mrs. H. D. McHenry, certificate.

Ring No. 62, best worsted quilt, Mrs. Thompson Mitchell, premium.

Ring No. 62, worsted quilt, Mrs. J. P. Barclay, premium.

Ring No. 67, best cotton counterpane, Mrs. May E. Greer, premium.

Ring No. 68, best shirt, Mrs. F. M. Joplin, of Hardin county, premium.

Ring No. 69, best silk Embroidery, Miss Lizzie Johnson, of Daviess county, premium.

Ring No. 71, best thread embroidery, Mrs. J. P. Barrett, premium.

Ring No. 71, thread embroidery, Mrs. J. Thomas, certificate.

Ring No. 74, best crocheted work, Miss Cora Thomasson, premium.

Ring No. 74, crocheted work, Mrs. Annie Potts, Evansville, certificate.

Ring No. 75, best hair work, Mrs. F. P. Morgan, premium.

Ring No. 75, hair work, Mrs. E. S. Edgerton, certificate.

Ring No. 76, best worked slippers, Mrs. Jennie Brotherton, Owensboro, premium.

Ring No. 76, worked slippers, Miss Alice Jarboe, certificate.

Ring No. 78, best leather work, Mrs. E. S. Edgerton, Owensboro, premium.

Ring No. 79, best Tattin, Miss Zerilda Johnson, Daviess county, premium.

Ring No. 80, best transferring, Mrs. J. P. Barrett, premium.

Ring No. 81, best chenille work, Mrs. J. P. Barrett, premium.

Ring No. 86, best display of pictures, Jno P. Barrett, premium.

Ring No. 86, display of pictures, Miss Bell Barnes, certificate.

Ring No. 87, best oil paintings and crayon work, Miss Bell Barnes, premium.

Ring No. 88, best photographs, J. F. Hardin, premium.

Ring No. 88, photographs, Mattingly, certificate.

Ring No. 89, best wheat, Jno P. Foster, premium.

Ring No. 89, wheat, S. L. Baird, certificate.

Ring No. 91, best bread corn, Clement Maples, premium.

Ring No. 91, bread corn, T. L. Allen, certificate.

Ring No. 92, best stock corn, T. L. Allen, premium.

Ring No. 92, stock corn, S. L. Baird, certificate.

Ring No. 93, best pumpkins, J. F. Collyns, premium.

Ring No. 94, best stemmin tobacco, Wm. Foster, premium.

Ring No. 94, stemmin tobacco, A. Gordon, certificate.

[To be continued.]

A Card of Thanks.

McHENRY, KY., Oct. 7th, 1879.

Editor Herald:

If time and space permit, allow me the privilege of informing the public through your valuable paper that I am truly thankful to them for their kindness to me while rebuilding my store at this place. Their liberality is very much appreciated, and will ever be remembered. And I wish to say further, that I have just returned from the city with no notice whatever to turn papers and arrange music when called for. They were all sober, and even total abstainers—strictly a temperance band, which is a novelty in these parts. Some of the directors are in favor of making a permanent engagement with the Rockport Band to furnish music for the Ohio Fair Company in the future.

Mr. Obad Chapman was drawn by force of circumstances into the Dining Hall and Confectionery business at the Fair grounds this year. He had no notice whatever until the day the Fair opened, that the work would devolve upon him. Notwithstanding this great disadvantage, he succeeded in providing good food for all who wanted it, and we believe he also saved himself from loss on the bond to the company.

Very respectfully,
SAMUEL A. WILLIAMS.

Clippings from Courier-Journal.

MORE CARELESSNESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.

A Bodie dispatch says: As the 6 o'clock shaft was being lowered in the Tigo mine with nine men on board, the engine lost control of the engine, and went down to the bottom of the shaft, 1,000 feet. One man is dead and three injured in such a manner as to warrant the belief that they will not recover.

LATER—The men injured by the accident at Tigo are: John Cassidy, both legs broken; Pat Bannon, dying, mashed to pieces; Sam Martson, both legs broken; and Alvin, injured internally; Harry Richard, killed; Joe Rodriguez, injured internally seriously, and Pete Pluff, one leg broken. It is the opinion of the physician in charge that all the injured will die. Miners' Union Hall is a place of mourning again and bears resemblance to the time of the Standard explosion.

39-26

E. SMALL'S

TRADE PALACE

Still Ahead.

SELLS ALL KINDS OF

Dry Goods at a Big Discount!

Dress Goods the Greatest Variety, new shades, new styles, new materials, cheaper than the cheapest.

Comforts and Blankets, Horse Blankets, Shawls, Skirts, Waterproofs, Flannels,

Eastern and Home-made Linseys, Canton Flannels, largest stock in the country and prices to defy competition.

Clothing. Children's Boy's Youth's and Men's in Dress & Business Suits.

OVERCOATS, PRICES AND QUALITY TO SUIT EVERYBODY.

Ladies' Cloaks, the Best and Cheapest. Ladies' Hats a Special Feature. Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's Hats and Caps, larger stock than ever. Last, but not least, Shoes and Boots. The entire stock bought at Assigues Sale for Cash. Call and examine for yourself.

E. SMALL.

THE HERALD.

LYCORGUS BARRETT, LOCAL EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1879.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

N. J. Harris, of Greenville, is a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the next Senate of Kentucky.

Bargains in ticking, at Anderson's Bazaar.

Chew Jackson's Sweet Navy Tobacco.

The best striped shirting, at Anderson's Bazaar.

Go to the Hartford Water Mills for your grinding.

Children's wool sacques, at Anderson's Bazaar.

Zephyr shawls in good variety and very cheap at Anderson's Bazaar.

Another big lot of those cheap kid gloves on the way to Anderson's Bazaar.

We have a sample of tobacco grown by J. S. Newcomb which is very hard to beat.

A big lot of umbrellas and India rubber coats and leggins at Anderson's Bazaar.

Klein & Bro. and Williams Bros. keep Hartford Water Mill flour for sale at Mill price.

A nice lot of ladies' trimmed hats and untrimmed hats just received, at Anderson's Bazaar.

Stuttering cured by Bate's Appliances. Send for description to Simpson & Co., Box 2,226, New York.

For flour, meal, bran, etc., wool rolls and Cates' goods, go to the Hartford Water Mills.

If you want to sell corn or wheat go to the Hartford Water Mills, which can get cash for them or Cates' goods.

Why will you pay $3 per hundred pounds for flour when you can get the best merchant flour at the Hartford Water Mills for $2.60?

J. H. Baird, of McHenry, brought us a stalk of his sugar cane, yesterday, which measured 14 feet without the top. The stalk is large in proportion to its length.

The Courier-Journal offers to send its great weekly for three months for only 25 cents to all who send their names before November 1. An extra copy is given free to every club of ten.

Thomas Stevens' horse, of Beaver Dam, Sam Rowan, won the half mile dash at the Ohio County Fair—time 52 seconds. He also won the Ohio county trotting ring—trotting under the saddle—shutting his competitors out on the first mile—time, 2:50.

Master George Klein, son of Mr. J. Klein, of this place, has presented to us several ears of pop-corn. George is only six years of age and raised the corn without the assistance of anyone. George is a smart little fellow, and will some day make his mark.

I take this method of informing the tax-payers of Ohio county that their taxes are now due, and have been since the first of June. Those owing their taxes are herein notified to come forward and pay the same. Persons owing back taxes, if not paid immediately, will have their property levied on and sold. One of my deputies will be at each of the Magistrate's courts in September, where persons can have an opportunity to pay their taxes.

C. W. PHILLIPS,
Sheriff of Ohio County.

—David Will Wright, the oldest son of Mr. Miles Wright, of this vicinity, came very near losing his life on last Wednesday. He had been harrowing some wheat ground and was taking his horses to put them up; on reaching the gate which leads into the stable lot, one of his feet became entangled with one of the traces; the horse getting frightened began to run, dragging young Wright around the stable four or five times, before the horse could be checked. His body is considerably bruised, but no bones broken. It was feared that he was seriously injured, we understand he is improving as fast as could be expected, and will recover soon.

If you want a good cigar or a first-class drink, call on Foster & Hill at their Restaurant.

If you want a good square meal for little money, call at Foster & Hill's European Restaurant.

New corn has been coming in for a week or two past, and has been sold at 35 cents per bushel.

BORN—On Sunday, Oct. 5th, to the wife of Mr. C. T. Carson, a son. We congratulate you, old chum. [En. pro tem.]

—On Sept. 28th, at the residence of the bride, Mr. Eli J. Burden and Mrs. Sarah Lyons, were married by Rev. Calvin Volles.

We send our readers a supplement this week composed of general and interesting reading, which enables us to give more local and county news in our regular issue.

—Geo. W. Bennett has left us a specimen of his tobacco crop. He will compete for the premium in the HERALD Fair. He had a good offer for his crop there from these samples.

—Mr. S. A. Williams, of McHenry, who recently lost his store and entire stock by fire, has rebuilt and opened at the same place. Let the public remember Mr. Williams when purchasing goods.

—George W. Patterson, of Point Pleasant, left at our office a sample of his tobacco crop. He received a premium upon his crop, and will, no doubt, compete for the HERALD's premium.

—Sunday night a lamp exploded at Mr. E. C. Hubbard's which came near burning his house. It did considerable damage. Be careful what kind of coal oil you buy. Much that is sold is not safe.

—The Ohio County Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will meet at Mount Olivet church next Friday, 10th inst., and will continue three days. Dinner will be served on the first night.

—Messrs. Holbrook & Russell, of Newville, have purchased a large stock of goods in Louisville, which will be on a few days. They will sell lower than anyone, for cash. Try them.

—The October session of the Court of Claims convened on Monday. There are quite a number of farmers from different parts of the county on the streets. We also have Justices enough with us this week to awe the boldest offenders into good behavior.

—A sad accident occurred near Sacramento, McLean county, a few days since. The little ten-year-old daughter of James and Ann Dorset, fell from the top of a fence—pulling a rail down upon her, and causing her death the second day after the accident. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of one and all residing in that portion of the county.—Madisonville Republican.

—TAKEN—From the Ohio County Fair ground on Friday night, October 3d, 1879, one sorrel mare, seven or eight years old, with a little crest-fallen, slight stifle mark on right hind leg, paces. Any one finding said animal and leaving her with J. Warren Barnett will be reasonably compensated. J. K. McCORMICK, Masonville, Daviess county.

—Taken up an estray by Wm. Whittinghill, living on the road leading from Hardinsburg to Hartford, about half way between the two places, in Ohio county, Ky., one bay roan mare about 14 hands high, seven or eight years old, and a stamp-sucker. Valued by me at forty dollars. The owner can have the same when he pays all charges to the said Wm. Whittinghill. Given under my hand, this, the 2nd day of September, 1879. B. P. WITHERS, J. P. O. C. 40-4t —Special attention is called to the meeting of Prof. E. D. Edgerton at the church to-night. There will be an exhibition of instrumental and vocal music. Let every lover of this fine art and true accomplishment turn out. The Professor has over half of a good class organized. It is desired to complete arrangements and organize a class. Young ladies and gentlemen, this is a rare chance to secure a correct musical education. Go out and join the class. Lessons, both vocal and instrumental, will be given.

—Mr. Jas. Thomas came very near loosing his fine bull, Tom Spot. On Thursday morning said Thomas started last week, the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Bunker. She returned home last Monday evening.

Miss Irene Eaves, of Sacramento, and Miss Jennie Short, of South Carrollton, who have been in Hartford for several days attending the fair and visiting relatives, returned home yesterday morning.

Go to G. A. Platt's and get the good, old pure Magnolia Whisky at $1.40 a gallon, or 5 cents a drink.

30-tf

Man Killed in Grayson County.

On last Friday evening Stephen Haycroft killed Henry Ramer at Harrison's Mill, about four miles west of Litchfield. They had a quarrel which ended in a fight, when Haycroft struck Ramer two licks with an iron wrench one on the shoulder and one on the head. Ramer spoke but once afterwards; he died on Saturday night. Haycroft was arrested and his examining trial was set for yesterday but we have not learned the result. Haycroft is about 18 and Ramer was about 21 years old. It has been circulated around that it would appear in proof, on the examining trial, that Haycroft did not do the striking, but that it was done by a friend or relative of his.

CONTINUED.

Chas. Griffin, concealed weapons; Chas. Griffin, cutting in heat of passion; N. P. Thomas, grand larceny; Jas. Green, Murder; Henry Thomas, grand larceny; Preston Daugherty concealed weapons; Felix Pool and R. N. Fitzhugh, gaming on premises of others; W. T. King, striking with intent to kill; John Hines, house breaking; Jas. Kershaw, concealed weapons; Van Rains, selling liquor to minors; Chas. Griffin, grand larceny; Henry Her, liquor to minors; Howard Bales, appeal; Anthony Maiden, shooting with intent to kill; W. B. Kuykendall, murder; B. F. Autry, assault and battery; Lawrence Coleman, petit larceny; Anthony Maiden, store breaking; Peyton C. Hamilton, store breaking; Samuel C. Crawford, concealed weapons; F. Bowell, concealed weapons; Mollie Hamilton, bawdy house; Sallie M. Southard, concealing birth of bastard child; Felix Pool et al., horse racing on high-way; Ransom Rogers, liquor to minors; Jas. Sinclair, DISMISSED.

40-cow-3m

Fresh Meats.

We have arranged to keep a supply of fresh meats on hand, such as beef, pork etc., and will be thankful for patronage.

Respectfully,

FOSTER & HILL.

Heaven's First Law.

It is absolutely demanded that the mental and physical laws of our nature should be kept in equilibrium. System and order must be maintained as the material and spiritual elements sick, ness, disease and death, as penalties. To be healthy, beautiful and buoyant the whole constitution must maintain regular action in all its component parts. A female who imprudently exposes herself and becomes prostrated with headache, pain in the back, fever, irregular action of the heart, etc., action, irregular action and loss of appetite must be restored to regular action, must be revitalized, recuperated at once, and for this very purpose nothing equals Dr. Drongoo's English Bitters. It is prepared expressly for all such diseases.

40-cow-3m

Destructive Fire.

Monday night about 12 o'clock, the dwelling house, including all its contents, belonging to Dr. W. J. Berry, of Beaver Dam, was consumed by fire. The loss is estimated at $4,000 with about $2,000 insurance in the Continental of New York. This is quite a blow to the Doctor—being quite old in years and having to begin life anew with but little assistance. He has the sympathy of the whole county. Cause of the fire not known.

40-cow-3m

Strange and Mysterious.

It is not generally known that there live in Hartford, at the present time, a Spiritual Medium, who has, from time to time, received communications in the shape of warnings and foretellings of future events, which have been indeed wonderful in their fulfillment. The latest, which was received just as the clock struck the hour of midnight last Friday night, is from the spirit of one who died here many years ago. After communicating the intelligence of a terrible war to take place in Europe in the year 1881, and the prosperity of the American republic during the next ten years, advised all the people to buy their goods at Anderson's Bazaar.

40-cow-3m

Religious Notice.

Rev. Jas. A. Burden, M. B. Covington, of Greenville, Ky., and others, will hold a religious meeting at Salem church, near Rosine, commencing on the first Sunday in November. The meeting will be protracted several days.

40-cow-3m

Visitors Attending Our Fair.

The case of Harvey Franklin, indicted at the March term of Criminal Court upon the charge of wife poisoning, came up last week. There was considerable interest in this case as it involved the unusual feature of having the experiments of scientific analysis of the stomach of deceased to establish the proof of poison. Dr. Kastenbline, of Louisville, analytical chemist, testified to finding 1-16th of a grain of strichnine in the tissues of the stomach. It seemed to be a clear case of death from poisoning. But the prosecution failed to prove any guilt upon Mr. Franklin as having administered the poison. It seemed that he had given her a dose of medicine about 20 minutes before symptoms of poison appeared. It also appeared that the lady had taken a dose just before or after that given by the husband, and it is probable that this dose was the poison taken through mistake. The jury accordingly acquitted the defendant of the crime of wife poisoning.

40-cow-3m

This sad case should be a warning to all to be more careful in handling poisons and medicines. The usual custom of having a medicine shelf, where all remain of medicines, rat poisons, &c., are stored together is dangerous. If the decision of the case was correct, it has certainly been a hard experience for the defendant.

40-cow-3m

The Grand Jury, of the late Criminal Court, held until Saturday morning, found no evidence to sustain the charge of wife poisoning. They showed a determination to make the "way of the transgressor hard." They canvassed the catalogue of crime and the result shows that since the first eating of forbidden fruit mankind is prone to go astray. But the conservators of the public peace are on the alert and we advise all who wish to live in wrong doing, to leave the law-abiding State of Kentucky—especially Ohio county, and go direct to Leadville, Colorado, or to Ohio, getting a passport of Deacon Richard of Cincinnati, to pass the border.

40-cow-3m

They pass the following is a list of indictments found, and the crimes committed:

40-cow-3m

Grand larceny.....

1

Illegal voting.....

1

Murder.....

2

Sabotage.....

2

Assault.....

1

Failure to keep streets in repair.....

1

Cruefully whipping children.....

2

Disturbing religious meeting.....

2

Tipping houses.....

1

Bad roads.....

1

Fornication and adultery.....

14

Selling liquor to minors.....

1

Selling liquor to drunk man.....

1

Making a grand total of.....

47

A review of the above list will show the distribution of crime in our midst, No special comment is necessary. It is

New Goods!

Cheap Goods!

AT

L. ROSENBERG & BROTHER'S

GREAT

EDUCATIONAL.
EDITED BY W. L. HAWKINS.

A State Superintendent of note says: "The time has come when the kindergarten should be grafted into the public school system of the State. Where it is now, it is in the hands of a few, it has given eminent satisfaction. The few schools under this system established in some localities three years ago have more than quadrupled since."

In less than ten years a kindergarten should be connected with every school having more than three departments in the State. It will increase the expense of education, but the time will come when, it will lessen them in the end. The time in which a child will acquire an average education will be shortened two years. Less attention will need to be given to the studies now taught to the primary pupils. An impulse will be supplied to enlarge and perfect home instruction, and so less early training will need to be imparted by the schools supported by public means. Wichita Eagle.

The paper of the publishers of this paper in Indiana that could not be more easily to be filled with tracts on the subject of education from foreign papers, but also to have the thoughts of some of our workers in the cause, brought before the people. It is earnestly desired that the friends of education throughout the country, will support the paper in making this department of the paper a more instructive and instructive lot, sending in short original articles; choice extracts which may come under their notice; questions upon the theory and practice of teaching mathematical problems; questions in history, and anything bearing directly upon this subject which will be of interest to the people. Correspondents need not profess to be able to answer all the questions presented, so will submit them to the teachers of the county at large.

Communications to this department must be received under the same restrictions as are placed upon other contributions to this paper. Correspondents must always sign their names and not necessarily for pay. These sending articles taken from some other paper, will please give the name of the paper from which taken, so that proper credit may be given. Exchange.

MISS ELLA JENNINGS'S ESSAY.

Read Before the Garfield County Court, at Antioch on Sept. 6th, 1879.

I confess I feel some embarrassment in adjusting myself to an occasion of this kind, when there are present, so many of my colleagues, having more acquaintance with the public than myself. But having been requested to read an essay, I shall endeavor to perform my task with credit to myself, as well as profit to my much loved teachers.

I consider an Education one of the priceless adornments of man. It is as an immortal that education is valuable to man, and civilization with him. Education is as it were, an education to us fitness for the duties and sovereignties of everlasting life. Education therefore is not merely nor mainly to enable us the better to make dollars or to enjoy our ease in this life; but to impart to us ideas, taste, knowledge and wisdom that shall lead us into eternal friendship with the true, the beautiful and the good. It is the end of schools of books and technicalities, into the schools of actual life, where, mastering higher problems and attaining developments in the college of experience, we may finally be graduated on the great Commencement Day, as mortals in the stand among the bright immortals in the presence of God. If we continue to stand here, we will be led into it proper channels as we advance in years so will we keep an apace, step by step to Wisdom's Palace. True, we find the pathway filled with many seemingly impossible obstacles, but our ability to overcome them is almost infinite. Though difficulties seem to thicken at every step, yet we must not become disheartened. For at the end we shall reap pleasure as a reward, just as a farmer after much toil finds his labors crowned with success, by having his barns and granaries filled; again, by neglecting our duties we may bring want and wretchedness upon ourselves and others.

Let me impress on you, my friends, that we go forth with firmness making our government subservient to Christianity; for in comparison with all other religions, Christianity is the only one that is transitory and fading, youthful vigor and beauty are but the short-lived flowers of the Spring, which die as soon as they are born; the honorable distinctions of this world are but like a empty air, which burst in a moment and disappears forever. Scientific researches and discoveries unless, in their ultimate results, they lead to Christianity, are only the amusements of children. Doubtless some would ask "of what use is an education?" It is well enough for teachers to be educated, but I never expect to teach." Say not that we are not in a position to support our position in life may be. True we may possess vast wealth at this time, but forget not, may leave us on the floor of the Aurora; then, let us summon our friends, and we find to our dismay, they too have fled. You need not expect to get an Education in one, two or three years. Even, though, we have gone through a course of study, and received our diplomas, yet, the ground has only been prepared and the seed scattered. They have yet to mature. The thistles have been removed, the rocky place enriched, and, now, we are ready for work. In Education as in Nature, there must be seed, time, and harvest, and the seed is only justified by his pupils, when "nothing of all things" inscribed the seed he has sown. Those who have been called wise men, are the ones who have succeeded in reaching some of the more elevated steps along this path-way, yet they have not reached the top-most stone. Many, who have attained to high positions upon this bright staircase, say that there are, yet, very many steps to go. To make an advancement over these stepping-stones, exertion is necessary, and sometimes very great exertion. Some of us have passed over, but a very few of the many steps leading to an Education. Are we willing to stop there? Not. The more we have made so few advances, should only, the more desires of mounting still higher and higher. Let us then endeavor to pass over as possible a number of these steps, so that, when we are called from this life to the "bright beyond," we shall have made such advances, as then to be able to move with steady march, "forward and upward" until we reach the beautiful Palace of Wisdom.

To Kentucky is behind just now, that, is her expenses greater than her income from taxes, suppose our Legislative solons try the "Moffit Bell Punch" law as a means of raising revenue.

Hart County has organized a society for the apprehension and punishment of horse thieves, with a president, secretary, and board of directors. A reward of $100 will be paid for the capture of any thief who steals a horse from any member of the society. Exchange.

Let every county in the State be troubled with horse thieves follow this example and the country will soon be rid of these pests.

ELLA V. JENNINGS.

How the Republicans Carried Maine.

The New York Herald gives a full description of the manner in which the recent canvas in Maine was conducted, from which we make the following extract:

"The political campaign in Maine, which closed with the election on yesterday, has been one of the most hot, bitter and exciting contests that the State has experienced in a long time. Mr. Blaine who has carried the State in the hollow of his hand for the past score of years, is a candidate for the nomination, and is considered a strong favorite, yet that his chances before the nominating convention would be slim, indeed, and effort utterly useless if his own State stood on the record as having repudiated him and his party, other States to come over and help him, and they responded by score and fifteen. U. S. Senators, Representatives, government officials poured into the State by squads and platoons. Every town and hamlet in the State was visited by this army of speakers, reinforced by members of the home guard, and the amount of political information and discussion, which the people received has never been exceeded in the history of the State. During each sanguine afternoon and evening of the last few weeks of the campaign the citizens of at least 100 of the 400 towns in the State were addressed upon their political rights and duties by these stump orators, and the Sabbath—such of them who were religious—was given over to the singing of the psalms or prayer to remind their hearers of the responsibility devolving upon them and their duty always, vote right. The Methodist camp meeting at East Livermore was wound up, after an early prayer meeting in the morning, by a Republican rally at ten o'clock, and a meeting of the people in the afternoon, and addressed by Senator Blaine, politicians and a brass band playing "Pioneer" taking the PLACE of the ministers and the choir with their hymns. The disciples of Wesley lingered and applauded the utterances of the speakers without any apparent shock at the transformation of the scene.

REPUBLICAN BULL-DOZING.

Not all the votes which were cast for Davis were secured from love of the Republican cause or admiration of an honest dollar, or party prejudice or fear of democratic ascendancy. It is a shame to be obliged to record that there was much BULL-DOZING of a "civilized sort" practised by wealthy firms and rich corporations and their agents in giving establishments upon their platforms.

Many workmen are DISCHARGED for avowing the purpose to vote the greenback ticket. Many cases of this nature can be named to the shame of the State and our New England civilization. Then the vote of many among us may be perverted, so as to be of little value. Address GEORGE STINSON & CO., Portland, Maine.

PADUCAH AND ELIZABETH-TOWN, KY.

In effect Sept. 7th, 1879.

TRAINS ROUND WEST.
Leave Elizabethtown 8:30 A. M.
" Louisville 6:00
" Paducah 8:30
" Beaver Dam 12:30 P. M.
Arrive Paducah 3:25
" Hopkinsville 3:10
" New Haven 4:10
" Henderson 4:30
" Owensboro 6:30
Leave Paducah 9:05 A. M.
" Princeton 12:00
" Nashville 8:30
" Hopkinsville 11:10 A. M.
Arrive Paducah 1:30 P. M.
" Beaver Dam 1:30
" Cynthiana 2:30
" Elizabethtown 3:00
Trains run daily.
Trains make close connection between Louisville and Cincinnati.

A. ANDERSON, Proprietor.
J. M. DOOM, Agent, Beaver Dam.

OWENSBORO & NASHVILLE RAILROAD.

Takes effect Monday, Sept. 1st, 1879.

TRAINS SOUTH.
Leave Main Station, Louisville 8:30 A. M.
" Owensboro Depot 8:30
" Paducah Creek 9:00
" Smithfield 9:15
" Crow-Hickman 9:21
" Riley 9:42
" Tichenor 10:18
" New Haven 10:36
" Isham 11:12
" Strong 11:32
" South Creek 12:00 P. M.
Arrive Owensboro Junction 3:00 P. M.
" Louisville 3:18
" Paducah 4:00
" Island 4:05
" Elizabethtown 4:12
" Riley 4:30
" Tichenor 4:42
" New Haven 4:50
" Isham 4:58
" Strong 5:00
" Crow-Hickman 5:18
" Sutherland 5:48
" Cynthiana 6:00
Arrive Owensboro Depot 6:00 P. M.
" Main Street 6:30 P. M.

Trains daily except Sunday.

E. CULVERHOUSE, Super.

MISS ELLA JENNINGS'S ESSAY.

Read Before the Garfield County Court, at Antioch on Sept. 6th, 1879.

I confess I feel some embarrassment in adjusting myself to an occasion of this kind, when there are present, so many of my colleagues, having more acquaintance with the public than myself. But having been requested to read an essay, I shall endeavor to perform my task with credit to myself, as well as profit to my much loved teachers.

I consider an Education one of the priceless adornments of man. It is as an immortal that education is valuable to man, and civilization with him. Education is as it were, an education to us fitness for the duties and sovereignties of everlasting life. Education therefore is not merely nor mainly to enable us the better to make dollars or to enjoy our ease in this life; but to impart to us ideas, taste, knowledge and wisdom that shall lead us into eternal friendship with the true, the beautiful and the good. It is the end of schools of books and technicalities, into the schools of actual life, where, mastering higher problems and attaining developments in the college of experience, we may finally be graduated on the great Commencement Day, as mortals in the stand among the bright immortals in the presence of God. If we continue to stand here, we will be led into it proper channels as we advance in years so will we keep an apace, step by step to Wisdom's Palace. True, we find the pathway filled with many seemingly impossible obstacles, but our ability to overcome them is almost infinite. Though difficulties seem to thicken at every step, yet we must not become disheartened. For at the end we shall reap pleasure as a reward, just as a farmer after much toil finds his labors crowned with success, by having his barns and granaries filled; again, by neglecting our duties we may bring want and wretchedness upon ourselves and others.

Let me impress on you, my friends, that we go forth with firmness making our government subservient to Christianity; for in comparison with all other religions, Christianity is the only one that is transitory and fading, youthful vigor and beauty are but the short-lived flowers of the Spring, which die as soon as they are born; the honorable distinctions of this world are but like a empty air, which burst in a moment and disappears forever. Scientific researches and discoveries unless, in their ultimate results, they lead to Christianity, are only the amusements of children. Doubtless some would ask "of what use is an education?" It is well enough for teachers to be educated, but I never expect to teach." Say not that we are not in a position to support our position in life may be. True we may possess vast wealth at this time, but forget not, may leave us on the floor of the Aurora; then, let us summon our friends, and we find to our dismay, they too have fled. You need not expect to get an Education in one, two or three years. Even, though, we have gone through a course of study, and received our diplomas, yet, the ground has only been prepared and the seed scattered. They have yet to mature. The thistles have been removed, the rocky place enriched, and, now, we are ready for work. In Education as in Nature, there must be seed, time, and harvest, and the seed is only justified by his pupils, when "nothing of all things" inscribed the seed he has sown. Those who have been called wise men, are the ones who have succeeded in reaching some of the more elevated steps along this path-way, yet they have not reached the top-most stone. Many, who have attained to high positions upon this bright staircase, say that there are, yet, very many steps to go. To make an advancement over these stepping-stones, exertion is necessary, and sometimes very great exertion. Some of us have passed over, but a very few of the many steps leading to an Education. Are we willing to stop there? Not. The more we have made so few advances, should only, the more desires of mounting still higher and higher. Let us then endeavor to pass over as possible a number of these steps, so that, when we are called from this life to the "bright beyond," we shall have made such advances, as then to be able to move with steady march, "forward and upward" until we reach the beautiful Palace of Wisdom.

To Kentucky is behind just now, that, is her expenses greater than her income from taxes, suppose our Legislative solons try the "Moffit Bell Punch" law as a means of raising revenue.

Hart County has organized a society for the apprehension and punishment of horse thieves, with a president, secretary, and board of directors. A reward of $100 will be paid for the capture of any thief who steals a horse from any member of the society. Exchange.

Let every county in the State be troubled with horse thieves follow this example and the country will soon be rid of these pests.

ELLA V. JENNINGS.

MISS ELLA JENNINGS'S ESSAY.

Read Before the Garfield County Court, at Antioch on Sept. 6th, 1879.

I confess I feel some embarrassment in adjusting myself to an occasion of this kind, when there are present, so many of my colleagues, having more acquaintance with the public than myself. But having been requested to read an essay, I shall endeavor to perform my task with credit to myself, as well as profit to my much loved teachers.

I consider an Education one of the priceless adornments of man. It is as an immortal that education is valuable to man, and civilization with him. Education is as it were, an education to us fitness for the duties and sovereignties of everlasting life. Education therefore is not merely nor mainly to enable us the better to make dollars or to enjoy our ease in this life; but to impart to us ideas, taste, knowledge and wisdom that shall lead us into eternal friendship with the true, the beautiful and the good. It is the end of schools of books and technicalities, into the schools of actual life, where, mastering higher problems and attaining developments in the college of experience, we may finally be graduated on the great Commencement Day, as mortals in the stand among the bright immortals in the presence of God. If we continue to stand here, we will be led into it proper channels as we advance in years so will we keep an apace, step by step to Wisdom's Palace. True, we find the pathway filled with many seemingly impossible obstacles, but our ability to overcome them is almost infinite. Though difficulties seem to thicken at every step, yet we must not become disheartened. For at the end we shall reap pleasure as a reward, just as a farmer after much toil finds his labors crowned with success, by having his barns and granaries filled; again, by neglecting our duties we may bring want and wretchedness upon ourselves and others.

Let me impress on you, my friends, that we go forth with firmness making our government subservient to Christianity; for in comparison with all other religions, Christianity is the only one that is transitory and fading, youthful vigor and beauty are but the short-lived flowers of the Spring, which die as soon as they are born; the honorable distinctions of this world are but like a empty air, which burst in a moment and disappears forever. Scientific researches and discoveries unless, in their ultimate results, they lead to Christianity, are only the amusements of children. Doubtless some would ask "of what use is an education?" It is well enough for teachers to be educated, but I never expect to teach." Say not that we are not in a position to support our position in life may be. True we may possess vast wealth at this time, but forget not, may leave us on the floor of the Aurora; then, let us summon our friends, and we find to our dismay, they too have fled. You need not expect to get an Education in one, two or three years. Even, though, we have gone through a course of study, and received our diplomas, yet, the ground has only been prepared and the seed scattered. They have yet to mature. The thistles have been removed, the rocky place enriched, and, now, we are ready for work. In Education as in Nature, there must be seed, time, and harvest, and the seed is only justified by his pupils, when "nothing of all things" inscribed the seed he has sown. Those who have been called wise men, are the ones who have succeeded in reaching some of the more elevated steps along this path-way, yet they have not reached the top-most stone. Many, who have attained to high positions upon this bright staircase, say that there are, yet, very many steps to go. To make an advancement over these stepping-stones, exertion is necessary, and sometimes very great exertion. Some of us have passed over, but a very few of the many steps leading to an Education. Are we willing to stop there? Not. The more we have made so few advances, should only, the more desires of mounting still higher and higher. Let us then endeavor to pass over as possible a number of these steps, so that, when we are called from this life to the "bright beyond," we shall have made such advances, as then to be able to move with steady march, "forward and upward" until we reach the beautiful Palace of Wisdom.

To Kentucky is behind just now, that, is her expenses greater than her income from taxes, suppose our Legislative solons try the "Moffit Bell Punch" law as a means of raising revenue.

Hart County has organized a society for the apprehension and punishment of horse thieves, with a president, secretary, and board of directors. A reward of $100 will be paid for the capture of any thief who steals a horse from any member of the society. Exchange.

Let every county in the State be troubled with horse thieves follow this example and the country will soon be rid of these pests.

ELLA V. JENNINGS.

MISS ELLA JENNINGS'S ESSAY.

Read Before the Garfield County Court, at Antioch on Sept. 6th, 1879.

I confess I feel some embarrassment in adjusting myself to an occasion of this kind, when there are present, so many of my colleagues, having more acquaintance with the public than myself. But having been requested to read an essay, I shall endeavor to perform my task with credit to myself, as well as profit to my much loved teachers.

I consider an Education one of the priceless adornments of man. It is as an immortal that education is valuable to man, and civilization with him. Education is as it were, an education to us fitness for the duties and sovereignties of everlasting life. Education therefore is not merely nor mainly to enable us the better to make dollars or to enjoy our ease in this life; but to impart to us ideas, taste, knowledge and wisdom that shall lead us into eternal friendship with the true, the beautiful and the good. It is the end of schools of books and technicalities, into the schools of actual life, where, mastering higher problems and attaining developments in the college of experience, we may finally be graduated on the great Commencement Day, as mortals in the stand among the bright immortals in the presence of God. If we continue to stand here, we will be led into it proper channels as we advance in years so will we keep an apace, step by step to Wisdom's Palace. True, we find the pathway filled with many seemingly impossible obstacles, but our ability to overcome them is almost infinite. Though difficulties seem to thicken at every step, yet we must not become disheartened. For at the end we shall reap pleasure as a reward, just as a farmer after much toil finds his labors crowned with success, by having his barns and granaries filled; again, by neglecting our duties we may bring want and wretchedness upon ourselves and others.

Let me impress on you, my friends, that we go forth with firmness making our government subservient to Christianity; for in comparison with all other religions, Christianity is the only one that is transitory and fading, youthful vigor and beauty are but the short-lived flowers of the Spring, which die as soon as they are born; the honorable distinctions of this world are but like a empty air, which burst in a moment and disappears forever. Scientific researches and discoveries unless, in their ultimate results, they lead to Christianity, are only the amusements of children. Doubtless some would ask "of what use is an education?" It is well enough for teachers to be educated, but I never expect to teach." Say not that we are not in a position to support our position in life may be. True we may possess vast wealth at this time, but forget not, may leave us on the floor of the Aurora; then, let us summon our friends, and we find to our dismay, they too have fled. You need not expect to get an Education in one, two or three years. Even, though, we have gone through a course of study, and received our diplomas, yet, the ground has only been prepared and the seed scattered. They have yet to mature. The thistles have been removed, the rocky place enriched, and, now, we are ready for work. In Education as in Nature, there must be seed, time, and harvest, and the seed is only justified by his pupils, when "nothing of all things" inscribed the seed he has sown. Those who have been called wise men, are the ones who have succeeded in reaching some of the more elevated steps along this path-way, yet they have not reached the top-most stone. Many, who have attained to high positions upon this bright staircase, say that there are, yet, very many steps to go. To make an advancement over these stepping-stones, exertion is necessary, and sometimes very great exertion. Some of us have passed over, but a very few of the many steps leading to an Education. Are we willing to stop there? Not. The more we have made so few advances, should only, the more desires of mounting still higher and higher. Let us then endeavor to pass over as possible a number of these steps, so that, when we are called from this life to the "bright beyond," we shall have made such advances, as then to be able to move with steady march, "forward and upward" until we reach the beautiful Palace of Wisdom.

To Kentucky is behind just now, that, is her expenses greater than her income from taxes, suppose our Legislative solons try the "Moffit Bell Punch" law as a means of raising revenue.

Hart County has organized a society for the apprehension and punishment of horse thieves, with a president, secretary, and board of directors. A reward of $100 will be paid for the capture of any thief who steals a horse from any member of the society. Exchange.

Let every county in the State be troubled with horse

HARTFORD HERALD.

SUPPLEMENT.

5

THE LOVE THAT LIVED.

BY E. NORMAN GUNNISON.

The love that lived in other times
Has never more grown cold;
The music of life's morning chimes
Has never yet grown old;
And still the numbers that we sung
Adown the distance float
As sweetly as when life was young.
Nor lose a single note.

What matter that the years have traced
Their furrows on the brow?
The friendships which our childhood graced
Are all the sweeter now.
What matters that at times a load
Of weariness we bear?
The flowers that blossom on our road
Grow whiter, blooming there.

We grow not older with the days,
The passage of the years,
She is still its sweet old ways,
Unblotted by our tears.
And still the music of its chimes
Are glad upon each tongue;
The love that lived in other times
Still lives, forever young.

IN THE SHAWANGUMS.

Mr. Slingerland Valentine sat in his capacious arm-chair, his hands resting on its broad arms, his forehead puckered up in a nest of wrinkles, his eyes staring with intense, puzzled thoughtfulness out through the window of his room into the beauties of the park beyond.

"I wonder what ever possessed me," he thought. "I do wonder what ever possessed me? Here I am, fifty-seven years old, and fool enough to imagine I couldn't get along the rest of my life as well as heretofore, and must go and actually ask pretty little Effie Herman to marry me—marry me!"

As if the idea was appalling, Mr. Valentine arose from his chair and began restless, desperate sort of promenade around the room.

"Not that she isn't the sweetest little creature that ever lifted a pair of blue eyes to a man's face—a dainty, flower-like girl, whom anybody would love; but to think—why, what a confounded fool I've been, and I old enough to be her grandfather!"

A stern, half-indignant look came to his eyes, and he paused a minute as if to more fully appreciate the folly of his position.

"Of course it's impossible the child cares for me; of course it's my money—that has won her, and the consent of her mother. Well," and the hale, robust old gentleman drew a long, deep sigh, and plunged resignedly into the depths of his Turkish chair again. "Well, there's no getting out of it now. I'm not the first man that has made a fool of himself over a pretty face, but at fifty-seven, Slingerland Valentine, you certainly were supposed to know better!"

And then he solaced himself with man's infallible comfort, a choice cigar, while, in another room in a pretty little cottage not very far away, Effie Herman was sitting in the vine-wreathed bay-window, making an exquisite picture of herself among the swaying foliage, and looking very bewitchingly frowning, as she flashed a glance from her blue eyes across the room at her mother sitting stately and grand in her gothic-back chair.

"I never hoped to hear such nonsense from a child of mine, Effie. The idea of not wanting to marry Mr. Valentine! Why, he can give you everything in the world you can think of. To be his wife means a bridal tour to Europe; to be mistress of his magnificent mansion on Fifth avenue; to dispense hospitality at his Long Branch villa; to have command of all that is luxurious, elegant, in every sense. And you don't want to marry him!"

Effie pouted her red lips.

"No, I don't! Mamma, your side of the picture is very tempting, but my side all the time keeps showing me a fat, bald-headed, stumpy old man, who wears false teeth and pads his coat, and tries to look and act as if he were twenty years younger than he is. Mamma, I don't want to marry him at all!"

And something very like a sob came piteously from the girl's lips.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," Mrs. Herman said, severely. "You shall not be allowed to throw away such a chance for the sake of sickly sentiment. You know what a struggle my life has been on account of poverty and obscurity; and I resolved, years ago, to save you from a like fate."

Effie opened her blue eyes widely.

"Poverty, obscurity, mamma! Why I think we have a lovely home, and enough of everything—"

"That will do, Effie! You need bring no imaginary arguments to confute my assertions; and, as far as Mr. Valentine is concerned, your word is pledged, and the wedding-day set for July twenty-fifth."

Then a sudden little resolution shone in Effie's eyes, and she ceased toying with the swaying spray of strawberry plant.

"Mamma, I have told you as kindly as I know how, that I do not want to marry that old gentleman; but, as you seem to take no notice whatever of my wishes, I will not marry him!"

And the blue eyes flashed, and a scarlet stain came on both cheeks.

Mrs. Herman laughed lightly.

"You foolish child! What weight do you imagine your words have with me? You will not marry him? Effie, you will, and that settles it!"

"No, mamma, it does not settle it; for the very next time I see Mr. Valentine I shall tell him so!"

For a second, Mrs. Herman grew pale with anger; then she looked coldly, sternly, at her daughter.

"You will not dare do it against my positive commands. I will myself see Mr. Valentine, and prepare him for any insanity you may dare to perpetrate; and while I am pushing forward the preparations for your marriage, and Mr. Valentine is superintending the re-furnishing of his seaside villa for your occupancy, you will be sent to the country to your aunt Hepzibah's—a quiet, stupid place—where you will speedily come to your senses, and learn to thank me for having saved you from yourself."

And, twenty-four hours later, Effie Herman was en route for the mountain farm-house away up in the Jersey Shawangums, and Mrs. Herman was coldly congratulating herself:

"She shall marry him! If there's any understanding between her and Frank Fielding—which I have once or twice imagined—I have effectively put a quietus on that. My letter to sister Hepzibah contained strict orders that no living soul, male or female, was to be allowed to see Effie, except members of her own family; and Mrs. Grey was always afraid to offend me—so there's no danger on that score. And two or three weeks will work wonders. She'll be glad to come back, and finish the season at Long Branch and Newport, as Mr. Valentine's bride, and go to Europe in the winter."

And then Mrs. Herman leaned back in her chair and indulged in a little catnap, composed and calmed by the plaudits of a good conscience.

Such a place as the Berrian farm, up in the Shawangums! Effie had all her life imagined it the most dreary, desolate, forsaken place in all the wide world, and her rapture knew no bounds when she found that it was the very ideal of picturesque, romantic, luxurious loveliness, and that Aunt Hepzibah was a genial, jolly soul, brimming over with good nature and good sense; that Uncle Zebedee was worthy to be her husband; and then the girls—Jessie Dunbar and Gwen Comfort—were just the very ideals of cousins, and they prepared to make a pet and plaything of their beautiful, dainty city cousin, who somehow (they did not quite understand) was in a sort of disgrace on account of a rich suitor she would not accept submissively.

To Effie, the life in the country was just perfect. To get away from Mr. Valentine and his attentions was happiness enough; and still adamantine in her resolution to "never, never" marry him, under any circumstances, she nevertheless contrived to have a very good time with Jessie and Gwen, uncle and auntie, and—

Jessie and Gwen's brother, uncle and auntie's son, Effie's own cousin, whom astute Mamma Herman had quite forgotten, had at least placed an innocent estimate upon.

However, they became astonishingly good friends, Harry Berrian and Effie, and before a month had passed Effie had confided all her sorrows to her handsome, sympathetic cousin, who assured her vehemently that it was an outrage that she should be so deliberately bargained for; and that, were he to be her counselor, and she followed his advice, she would stick to her resolution, and never give her hand where she could not give her heart.

And then he looked at her in an eager sort of way, and Effie dropped her eyes, and that was all that there was about it.

It seems as if fate itself was working in Mrs. Herman's behalf, for Mr. Valentine had not at all taken it amiss when she informed him she had sent "Effie, dear," up among the mountains for a few weeks' recreation, so that she might be bright and fresh-spirited for the wedding. Indeed, in his own heart he felt considerably relieved, and was gayer in his own spritely than he had been for many a day.

Until, very suddenly, a terrible attack of rheumatism seized him, and put him completely at the rather doubtful though well-meant mercy of his hired servants; and in sheer rage and despair, Mr. Valentine telegraphed to his sister-in-law away up in Vermont, to come and look after him.

"If only I had been able to nurse you, dear Mr. Valentine!" Mrs. Herman cooed sweetly. "But Madam Grundy would be sure to be disagreeable. If only you were married now, just imagine how devoted dear Effie and I would be! As it is, I do really think the best thing you can do is to send for Mrs. Grey."

And Mrs. Grey came—a plump, cheery, comely little lady, with soft, shining brown hair, all in waves and ripples, and merry, intelligent eyes, brown and big, and a sweet, vibrant voice, the very sound of which held a comfort and strengthfulness in its soothing tones.

She was a born nurse, and a born housekeeper, and even in his sick-room Mr. Valentine was conscious of the noiseless running of the domestic machinery, while, in the many pleasant, confidential talks they had, her good common sense was always apparent.

"It's no wonder Jack worshipped her—poor fellow," he thought.

"And you are actually going to be married, Slingerland? I was quite surprised when I heard of it; and a charming young girl I hear she is!"

"Well, yes, I believe I am thinking about it, Amy. Yes, Miss Herman is a very sweet, pretty little girl!"

"I'm sure you thought seriously over it before you decided; it's an important thing to do, Slingerland, and especially important when a man comes to your age and wants a young wife. I do hope you'll be satisfied."

Mr. Valentine puckered up his forehead doubtfully.

"Oh, dear me! yes, I hope so. A man's bound to make a fool of himself once in his life, and it's happened to me later than to most. Oh, yes, I dare say little Effie and I'll get on very well."

A curious little smile crept to Mrs. Grey's red lips—such ripe-red lips, like luscious damask roses.

"You don't talk like the enthusiastic lover I expected to find," she said, brightly, biting her pretty lip to keep from laughing, for shrewd Mrs. Grey was quite well convinced that her brother-in-law was repenting his word.

"And I don't feel enthusiastic, either," he blurted out, his face reddening under her surprised, innocent blue eyes. "The fact is, I went bewitched over a pretty face, and somebody ought to have kicked me from here to Jericho before I made such a deuced—ass—yes—of myself!"

Jack's widow drew down the white shade, so that the invalid bear would not have the western sunlight too direct in his eyes.

"It isn't so bad as that, I hope, Slingerland, is it? Well, don't let's bother any more about it just now. Be quiet little while, while I run down and see what I can find for your supper."

She went away, leaving Mr. Valentine thinking all sorts of curious thoughts, prominent among which was what a good wife poor Jack had, and what a deuced fine-looking woman she was yet, and how amazingly he liked to have her around, and what the dickens he would do when she went away.

Up in the Shawangums the August days were royal in their pulsing ardor. And Effie and Cousin Harry had, quite some time before, decided that it was the most delightful summer of their lives, when, into all the sweetness and beauty and content, one day there came a letter to Aunt Hepzibah from Mrs. Herman, saying that Mr. Slingerland Valentine was coming to see his betrothed, and Effie was to treat him accordingly.

And three hours later the gentleman himself appeared, to the awe of Jessie and Gwen, and the admiration of simple-minded auntie, who ushered him, and all his glory of massive gold watch-chain, and sparkle of diamond studs, into the prim, cool, dark "parlor," where the chairs—six of them—sat in straight rows, and the carpet was the identical striped one that had been a bridal present—and a rare, costly one in those days—to Aunt Hepzibah and Uncle Zeb.

Effie was all aflush as she went in to greet him, and her eyes were shining resolutely as she crossed the floor to shake hands with him.

"I hope you are well, Miss Effie; you are looking, as usual, most charmingly. Sorry I have such a short time to stay, but—the fact is I just run up on a little matter of business, you see; and I won't detain you longer than is necessary."

His heart was thumping very undisciplinedly, but when one takes into consideration the "business" that had brought him, it was scarcely to be wondered at—business which only the memory of Jack's plump, buxom widow made him brave enough to transact, after he was actually face to face with this blue-eyed little girl.

"He means to give me a lecture, and mamma has told him what I said," was Effie's thought; "and I'll never, never marry him, and I'll tell him so now, this minute!"

C. G. TACHAU & CO.

Manufacturers of

FINE CIGARS!

2128 W. Cor. Sixth and Main,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

TACHAU & LANDRUM,

Manufacturers of

Chewing and Smoking Tobacco

Factory No. 479 Market St.,

Bet. Twelfth and Thirteenth, LOUISVILLE, KY.

FINE NAVIES A SPECIALTY.

PUMPS

FOR

Cisterns and Wells of any depth, with or without hose.

Oil and Gas Chandeliers.

SEWER PIPE

FIRE CLAY CHIMNEYS,

Flue Linings, Chimney Tops

C. I. CAUFIELD,

No. 25 East Market Street.

Bet. Brook and First,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

A. T. Gilmore. W. W. Hite. Sam'l Oberbacker.

GILMORE, HITE & CO.

DEALERS IN

Steamboat & Railroad

SUPPLIES

CORDAGE, TWINES, OAKUM, BLOCKS, &c.

COTTON DUCK,

ALL WIDTHS AND WEIGHT.

28 Fourth Street, between Main and River,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Tarpaulins, Awnings and Horse Covers

Made to order on short notice.

MITCHELL & HEBDEN,

Manufacturers of Steam Boilers

74 and 76 Eleventh near Main,

Opp. Louisville Paper Mill, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Steamboat, Mill, Portable and Upright Boilers of every description, Lard Tanks, Salt Pans, etc. Boilers Repaired at Short Notice. Second-hand Boilers For Sale.

THE RED BELL SIGN

ARTHUR JONES,

Novelty Brass Foundry

"Old Reliable," 224 South side Market Street, bet. 6th and 7th, Louisville, Ky., Brass, Copper and White Metal Castings made to order on the shortest notice. All work guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Copper Brands a Specialty.

MCGILL & TRUMAN,

Dealers in

Seeds and Farming Implements

WHOLESALE AT FACTORY PRICES.

Avery, Miskie and Richmon Plows,

South Bend Chilled Pows,

Mitchell Farm Wagons, Pumps,

Corn Shellers, Cutting Boxes, &c.

90 Main St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

J. L. BOTSFORD & CO.,

Wholesale Dealers in

Butter and Cheese

GENERAL PRODUCE.

FUNNYGRAPHS.

When yesterday I asked you, love, one little word to say,
Your little brother interrupted us, so please say yes-ter-day. [Norristown Herald.]

MR. TALMAGE is still exciting great interest in England, as the only American preacher who can twist his leg up over his shoulder and use it for a necktie.—Christian Union.

CUSTOMER.—"What did you think of the bishop's sermon on Sunday, Mr. Wigsby?" Hair dresser.—"Well, really, sir, there was a gent a sittin' in front o' me as 'ad his 'air parted that crooked that I couldn't 'ear a word."

HUSBAND.—"Maria, my dear, you seem to be very lonesome in my company. Do you not love me now as you did before our marriage?" "Why, of course, Gerald; but you know since our marriage we have become one, and I feel lonesome without a second party."

REV. MR. POGSON, of Bridgeport, is the father of a boy who will probably distinguish himself. The evening before the last circus in that city the reverend gentleman was talking to his son about the beauty of heaven, when the child suddenly observed: "Papa, let's drop heaven and talk circus."—Danbury News.

BURLINGTON HAWKEYE: "Gentle Annie" is in a despairing mood this week. She begins her sad plaint by asking: "Will they forget us when we are gone?" You may bet your sweet life, Gentle Annie, they will. They will forget us so completely they won't even be positive where we are gone."

CORNELIUS McMAHON, alias James Wilson, arrested at Upper Sandusky, O., for the murder of Washington Hite, confessed to Mrs. Houston, wife of the sheriff, that he was the murderer. When asked why he killed an honest man, he replied: "A man in want of money and under the influence of whisky will do any thing."

THE infant son of Senator and Mrs. Bruce, of Mississippi, was baptised in Cleveland Saturday evening, and received the name of Roscoe Conkling Bruce. The Senator is said to own 10,000 acres of land in Kansas, and after the expiration of his term next March, will not return to Mississippi, but settle among his colored brethren in Kansas.

A LONDON journalist of rather ripe imagination says that at a recent dinner given in New York, the peaches developed an altogether new and unexpected feature. They bore the monogram of their owner traced distinctly in the velvety bloom. The process he described thus: Letters cut from paper are pasted on the peaches while growing. When the fruit is ripe, on removing the paper the letters are found picked out in the most delicate green, the rest of the fruit being rosy hued.

SAN FRANCISCO POST: "Can it be possible my Algernon no longer loves his little brown eyes? Can it be that her caresses have become irksome at last?" said a heart broken young pull-back of our local nobility to her "steady company" the other evening, as the latter seemed inclined to remove her clinging form from his breast. "Your Algernon is all right," said the youth with an uneasy squirm; "but if you don't let up a minute, Tilder, the spiral of my stud will come out through my backbone, sure."

"WELL, Phoebe, do you attend church?" "Lors, yes, missus. Couldn't live if Ise didn't go to meeting." "Do you have good times there?" "I guess we does. We have 'tracted meetin' goin' on, and last night our minister 'vited pussuns to de altar, when three cam' fow'd, and we thought dat furst-rate considerin' the hard times."

A BRIDGEPORT girl got a button in her ear some years ago, and has had terrible attacks of headache ever since.—Danbury News.

We have always advised that young men ought to see to it that the breast buttons of their coats are kept securely sewed on.—Courier-Journal.

SAID old Mr. Wiscowl: "There is a passage of scriptur', brutherin, that's impressed me much, very much; I've thought on't and thought on't, and I'm aluz thinkin' on't. I disremember jest whar it is, and ez fur that matter, jest what it is, but you can't tell how much uv a solis it is to me on my journey through this vale o' tears."—Boston Transcript.

A COMMUNICATION to the Lime Kiln club from Elias Tiffle Spencer, of Academy Corners, Pa., disclosed the fact that a young colored man of that locality, answering to the name of L. Y. Gardner, was making a pretty good thing of it by claiming to be Brother Gardner's oldest son. After the secretary had finished reading the communication, the president rose and said: "Gem'len, if any member ob dis club had an idee dat I hed a sap in Pennsylvania, I might remark dat my oldest son was gal, an' dat she balanced an eight-pound pumpkin de day she was bo'n. Dat's all de son I ever had, an' de poor fang was tooken wid fever an' died befo' she was to' y'ars ole. We has got some ob de little dresses up home in de chest, an' sumtimes wen I go in so'ly by de back way I fin' de ole women kissin' them relias and weepin' like her ole heart meant never to forget dat she had been umder. Dis chap down dar am a fraud ob de fifth water, an' I hereby offer a reward of $10 for his arrest."—Detroit Free Press.

LOUISVILLE

Industrial Exposition!

[From our own Correspondent.]

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 27.

"There is luck in odd numbers," said Rory O'Moore more years ago than you and I care to admit to our memory back to. Of all the lucky and mystical numbers, seven has always had the precedence. I do not mean to say that this accounts for the success of our Seventh Industrial Exposition this year. There are two reasons why I will not. One is that the statement would not be true—and while I could make an untrue statement if I would, no one has ever heard of my doing it; and the other is that business has revived and people are feeling good about it all over the country. Resumption has really resumed, the politicians to the contrary notwithstanding. With these preliminary remarks, which shall serve as my text, permit me to deliver a short discourse to your readers. It will have various heads, and those pious readers who invariably go to sleep after "thirdly" had as well prepare to nod, for I promise to be lengthy. It does not need that the building in which the expose of our industries is made should be described. That were a thrice-told tale. I can convey to your readers a good estimate of its capacity by saying that there are five acres of flooring, and that every available foot of it is covered with some sort of display representing the enterprise and ingenuity of man. That is a pretty large field—more than one man can plow in a day—but it is a fruitful field to the man who wishes to study the advancement of the useful, but it is none the less true. These two powerful but noiseless machines furnish a splendid example to politicians and our friends, the ladies. Connecting with the engines are lines of shafting extending throughout the mechanical department of the building, and one can find here every manner of labor-saving machine busily working out its problem. To give a list of what is there would be to ask you to surrender your entire space to me. I will not do it. I have a tender compassion for your readers, none of whom have ever harmed me. I don't think I ever before saw so many inducements held out to a man to be lazy as are here shown. It actually pains me to know that I am industrious when the opportunities to be artistically lazy are so fine. You can not only take your corn to mill on the riding cultivator which helped you to raise it, but you can play a quiet game of "seven-up" with the miller while a little mill you could carry home in your pocket converts your grain into first-class meal. Be good enough to remember that I never exaggerate. A reaper cuts your grain and rakes it off the apron—so much a thing. It ties it into a bundle and drops it ready for the shocker. Don't let me shock you when I tell you that next year there will be shown a reaper which cuts, binds, and threshes the grain in the field. This looks rather immense, but it is done every day in the harvest season in California.

There are plows shown here that it is a positive aesthetic pleasure to look at. They are so nice that a man who would think of putting one of them into the ground would be worse than an infidel. They are not painted; that would be too common; they are varnished and look like parlor ornaments. One enthusiastic millionaire, connected with the press, and modesty forbids my mentioning his name, has bought one of them and has it sitting on top of his piano as a decoration. Meikle & Co., Avery, Brinly, and the South Bend, Indiana, people, through their agents, McGill & Truman, are the exhibitors. Every one of them ought ed by an admiring throng who feel in gazing upon the inspiration born of Hood's splendid poem. It is worth a journey from a long distance to see it. Aside from the two pictures herein mentioned, there are a thousand of almost equal merit which can not be particularized for lack of space. It would be unjust, though, to omit a mention of the Brenner Gallery filled with the fruit of the active and artistic pencil of Carl Brenner, the artist of the green woods of Kentucky. To the lover of art in its highest and most natural form, a never ending study is here presented, and one can scarcely leave the pleasant scene presented without purchasing a "share" in his distribution, which will take place at the close of the Exposition.

In the way of pleasant diversion, the management has never so admirably succeeded. A troupe of admirably trained birds, supplemented by an intelligent Russian cat and a white mouse, are only surpassed by a large retinue of dogs which have been educated to a point of intelligence which almost fits them for ordinary newspaper work. They don't talk, it is true, and this is their most commendable trait. Over the way are our friends, the Bornoese, two young gentlemen of seventy years, and diminutive stature, who toss the heavy weights of their audience about as if they were feathers, and who furnish the strongest evidence yet shown of the truth of the Darwinian theory. But they are not proud; their highest ambition is the accumulation of the mighty dollar: the strongest proof of the demoralizing effect of the civilization of the boasted nineteenth century.

Next week we are to have a sensational development rarely witnessed in the United States. Col. Maginnis, with that rare appreciation of the wants of the public which has so strongly marked his career as manager of the Exposition, has engaged a phenomenal couple. These are "the Man Projectile," Mons. Loyal, and his wife, Madam Ella Zuilla. Loyal permits himself to play the role of a bombshell; is placed in a cannon in ful sciences and the pride and glory of his country.

Dropping into detail, I may say that the lower area or ground floor is devoted to the useful arts, and the display of two and one-half acres of space filled with the mechanism which permits man to move the world instead of waiting for the world to move him. If old Archimedes were to drop in there, he would put up his hands in astonishment and say that not only had his fulcrum been improved upon but the place upon which to rest it had been found. It will be readily recalled that Archimedes wasted his days in hunting a place on which to put his lever, which should permit him to overturn the world—a very reprehensible proceeding, you will permit me to say. But to proceed. The lower half, or northwestern section, of this space is devoted to the farm and factory. Here may be seen every labor-saving machine that has been invented and stood the test of actual experience. Two splendid engines run two thousand feet of shafting, and from this belts and bands innumerable convey motive power to the various machines displayed. A circular saw, buzzing away, which cuts thousands of feet of lumber every day, while, as if in contempt of steam and its power, just over the way and opposite, an inventive genius calmly sits down and saws up a log by a gentle motion which assimilates closely to that of a rocking chair. It really makes a man lazy to see how easily he does the work. The two engines which furnish the motive power for all this vast field of machinery are respectively from the Buckeye Engine Company, of Salem, Ohio, and the Reliance Engine Works, of Milwaukee, Wis., the first of fifty, the latter of sixty horse power. You may stand by the side of either of them and hear no more sound of their working than you do of your watch in your pocket. Of course this statement will not be to be canonized for making farming so delightful.

Of course there are many other farming implements shown—indeed one can scarcely think of anything in an agricultural way that is not represented here, but I will not give you a list and description of them. If I were to do so in my artistic sort of way, all your readers would be pouring into Louisville to see them, and as our Exposition building only holds twenty thousand persons at a time, I desist. If there is any thing I do like it is a crowd.

I would like to take you up stairs with me and see what is there, but I will not do it. Life is too short to see all these things, and none of us would like to be a Methuselah, unless under the most favorable circumstances.

There are novelties and novelties, and also a great many other things. Eichhorn's orchestra, for instance, the biggest thing of the kind in the great Southwest. Eichhorn is the pet of the news brigade, and can and does furnish the music to which the boys trip the heavy fantastic heel annually at the meetings of the Press Association.

The variation from the "toe" business in the above remarks ought to be appreciated. The variety of goods shown here would excite the envy of the most elaborate Parisian mind. To purchase such an outfit as can be seen would require that the purchaser should own a half dozen Leadville mines and stand in with Secretary Sherman in addition. Nothing short of a bonanza would satisfy the cravings of the heart in this splendid exhibit.

The Art Gallery this year surpasses anything ever offered here before. There are a number of fine pictures shown which have never before been on public exhibition, and which are valued at thousands of dollars. Among them may be noticed a copy of Titian's "Danae," which is the envy of every true lover of art. The owner, an artist of New York, only permitted it to come here on the condition that a very heavy insurance should be placed upon it. Another splendid work attracting much attention, is "The Song of the Shirt," which is constantly surround-front of a charge of powder, and fired out in the most orthodox manner. Madame Zuilla hanging by her feet from a trapeze in mid-air, catches her husband, as a good wife should, as he is sent through the air, and saves him from a fall. It may be stated parenthetically right here, that it would be well if various other husbands were caught by their wives in another way in the Exposition building.

These active and adventurous people will remain during the closing weeks of the Exposition, supplemented by additional special attractions which can not but please. This feature has been made a special one, and the management has made every effort to secure the very best offered in the market.

"Come to Louisville and see us" is the message I can conscientiously send you. "For the small sum of twenty-five cents," as our friend, the side-show man at the circus remarks, you can see the greatest display ever made in Louisville.

There have been Expositions and Expositions, but none like this one. It is the very best ever given here, and to the man or woman who has a care for the advancement of the material interests of the country, there is here given a never ending field for study. The railroads and steamboat lines have put their rates down to a fair point, and one can see the Exposition very cheaply. Since the opening and the beginning of the new "boom" in trade, there has been a great influx of visitors to Louisville, and the stranger guest within our gates has found very much of matter instructive and amusing to while away the hours not devoted to business. A very pleasant welcome is extended to all who come, and to none more than our brothers of the press.

A room is set apart for their reception, and within its sacred precincts are found two young men whose only duty is to see that all have a very pleasant time. Adjoining is a secret closet, in which the mystic secrets of the craft are taught. To all your readers I say, paraphrasing the Macedonian cry: "Come over and see us." BOHEMIAN.

WRAMPELMEIER &amp; CO.

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS

In all Kinds of

FURNITURE

Bedroom Suits,

Parlor Suits,

Dining Furniture,

Hall Furniture,

Library Furniture,

MATTRESSES

AND BEDDING.

68 Main and 70 Third

Factory Square, 14th and 15th, Portland Ave.

and Duncan St.

LOUISVILLE.

W. T. PYNE,

Millwright,

And Mill Furnisher,

427 West Main Street,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Manufacturer of

Pyne's Schoonover Purifier

And Dealer in all Kinds New and Second-hand Mill Machinery. also Makes and Repairs Boilers.

JUST OUT

PEDESTRIANISM!

A GAME FOR BOYS.

The start in the race, the varied successes of the contestants, and the reaching of the goal, keep up the delighted attention of the players to the end. It can be played by either two, three or four persons. The board folds in the center, similar to a checker board. Price $1.00. By mail, $1.25.

TERRELL, DIETZ & CO.

Blank Book Manufacturers, Stationers and Printers.

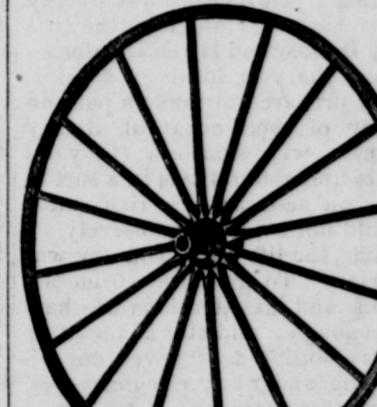

180 WEST MAIN STREET.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

THOS. B. CRUTCHER,

DEALER IN

Sarven Patent Wheels

IRON, STEEL, NAILS,

Horse-Shoes,

HUBS, SPOKES and FELLOES,

Anvils, Axles, Bolts, Thimbles,

SKEINS and SPRINGS.

Warehouse 309 W. Main St.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

LAPP, GOLDSMITH & CO.,

PURE

Kentucky AND Tennessee Whiskies

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

No. 185 West Main Street.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

CIGAR FACTORY, 1,329 and 1,331 Avenue A, . . . NEW YORK.

Manufacturers of the Celebrated Brands of Cigars

LOG CABIN.

LOUISVILLE JOCKEY CLUB.

LA CASTELLANO.

Dr. WEBER'S Celebrated East India Bitters,

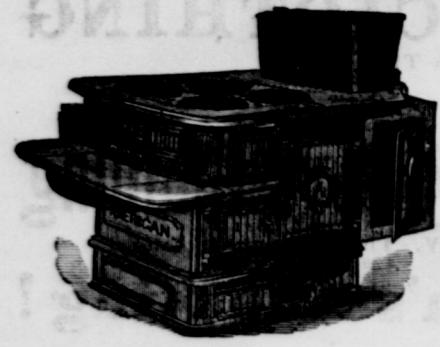

CURES DYSPEPSIA.

ONLY A QUARTER!!

FOR THE

Great Representative Southern Newspaper.</

BRIDGEFORD & CO.
Manufacturers of the Great Wood Cooking Stoves
American & Kentucky Belle

Also COLUMBIAN, for Coal and Wood.
Hotel and Restaurant Ranges a specialty.
Particular attention given to all.

DISTILLERY WORK.

J. J. Harbison, J. B. Gathright, Owen Gathright, Jr.

HARBISON & GATHRIGHT,
WHOLESALE

SADDLERY

And Saddlery Hardware.

257, 259 and 261 Main St., bet. 7th and 8th,
North Side.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

WANTED.
Agents in every Town and County in Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee and the South for the

WEEKLY Post and News
THE BEST FAMILY PAPER
IN THE SOUTHWEST.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.
Special Rates to Clubs and Agents.

Evening Post and News, - LOUISVILLE, KY.

NEW DEPARTURE!

— IN THE —

ORGAN TRADE!

— BY —

D. H. BALDWIN & CO.

Realizing the fact that there are hundreds of parents who would be glad to give their children a musical education, could they afford to purchase for them a good instrument at a reasonable price, we have decided to sell five hundred fine Cabinet Organs on the following terms: We will put the price of Organs down to $80 and purchasers can pay $10 cash, and the remainder we will divide up into small monthly payments of $4 each, which gives the purchaser one year and six months to pay the remainder. Please think what a saving of thirteen cents per day will do for your children. The above Organs are made in first class style and of first class material. The cases are of solid black walnut. They have two full sets of reeds and seven stops, three of which run all the way through, making them equal to ten-stop Organs of other makes. The keys are of pure ivory. A guarantee for five years goes with each Organ. Persons outside of the city who find it inconvenient to call at our ware-rooms can have a circular containing cuts and full description sent them on application. Persons desiring Pianos can obtain them from us at prices and on terms equally as good as on Organs.

$1 of the purchase money on organs and $2 on pianos saved by saying you saw this offer in this paper.

D. H. BALDWIN & CO.

80 Fourth Ave., LOUISVILLE, KY.

THE 'OPTIMUS'
UNLAUNDERED SHIRT!
For Sale Only by
R. T. COLEMAN & CO.
137 Fourth Avenue,
LOUISVILLE, KY.
Manufacturers of Fine Dress Shirts
And Dealers in Men's Furnishing Goods.

Can not fail to recognize the superior advantages offered by

Hospital College

— OF —

MEDICINE.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

CHESTNUT STREET,

Between Floyd and Preston, opposite Louisville City Hospital.

To save expense students on reaching the depot, should take a carriage or omnibus and go at once to the College Building (giving the driver the above directions), where baggage may be securely left until a suitable boarding place may be selected. The Janitor has a large list of boarding houses, and can give accurate information as to prices and character.

CLINICS ARE HELD DAILY

At 8 to 9 A. M., and 2 to 3 P. M., to which all medical students are invited.

W. H. BOLLING, M. D., Dean,

126 Third Street, near Jefferson.

Eagle Brass Works
FOWLER & CO.,
47 NINTH STREET
LOUISVILLE, KY.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!

F. D. BARNUM,
Late Kitts & Werne,
112 Fourth Ave., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Is exhibiting a complete assortment of

Watches, Jewelry

DIAMONDS,

Silver and Silver-Plated Ware

All New Goods and at Low Prices.

CALL AND EXAMINE

The Pan Handle
AND PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE.

The Popular Line East!

ONLY

30 hours to New York

FROM LOUISVILLE.

The Only Line Running Through Pullman

DRIVING COACHES AND SLEEPING CARS FROM LOUISVILLE, PHILADELPHIA AND NEW YORK.

Favorite Route to Baltimore & Washington City

Sidney B. Jones, General Southwest Pass. Agent,
135 Main St., under Burnett House, Cincinnati.

D. W. Caldwell, Gen'l Manager, Columbus.

W. L. O'Brien, Gen'l Pass. & Trk. Ag't, Columbus.

LOUISVILLE TICKET OFFICE

Cor Fourth and Main Streets.

KENTUCKY BELL FACTORY

Cow Bells, [Established 1848] Sheep Bells,

Loud, Strong, Durable, Cheap.

When you buy see my trade-mark

"J. G. Dodge's Kentucky Bell"

is on the label. Thus you get the genuine

Kentucky Bell which is good and cheap.

For sale by Hardware Dealers everywhere.

T. P. BARCLAY, Sole Prop'r, Louisville, Ky.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

CHILTON, GUTHRIE & CO

133 Fourth Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Smoke the Two Celebrated Brands

of Five-Cent Cigars,

Gov. Blackburn

AND

Gold Standard

HAVANA FILLED.

Manufactured by R. N. EWELL & CO.

167 Fourth Ave., Louisville, Ky.

COULDN'T STOP HER.—The gates at the passenger depots which shut out all persons not having tickets for the trains were yesterday closed at the Union depot against an elderly woman wearing spectacles and using an umbrella for a cane.

"Can't pass without a ticket," said the man at the gate as she came up.

"I want to see if there's anybody on that train going to Port Huron," she answered.

"Can't pass without a ticket, madam."

"I've got a darter in Port Huron, I have."

"Can't help it, please. My orders are very strict."

"I tell you, I want to send word to my darter!" she exclaimed, adjusting her spectacles for a better view of the official.

"Yes, but we can't help that, you see. Please show your ticket."

"I want this ere railroad to understand that I've got a darter in Port Huron, and she's got a baby four weeks old, and I'm going to send her up word in spite of all the gates in this depot."

"Please show your ticket, madam."

"I tell you once more—"

"Please show your ticket, madam."

She gave the old umbrella a whirl and brought it down on his head with all the vim of an old-fashioned log-rolling, and as he staggered aside she passed him and said:

"There's my ticket, sir, and I've got more behind it! Mebbe one man and a gate can stop me from sending word to my darter to grease the baby's nose with mutton taller if the weather changes cold, but I don't believe it!"

And she walked down to the train, found some one going to Port Huron, and came back carelessly humming the melody of the "Three Blind Mice." —Detroit Free Press.

COMPANIONS IN ARMS: TWINS.

BEST AGE FOR SAILORS: SALVAGE.

THE FIRST THING A MAN TAKES IN HIS LIFE IS HIS MILK; THE LAST IS HIS BIER.

MEN ARE FREQUENTLY LIKE TEA—the real strength and goodness are not properly drawn out until they have been in hot water.

"PUT NO FULSOME COMPLIMENTS ON MY TOMBSTONE," said Grandfather Dunshudder this morning; "don't give me any epitaphy."

OUR EXPORT TRADE.

The annual report of the Bureau of Statistics shows many interesting facts relative to the exportation of merchandise from the United States during the past year. It is particularly of interest when compared with the reports of several years ago, showing as it does a vast increase in the shipments to foreign markets of nearly every article of domestic production. To show the increase within the last ten years, the exports of principle articles of merchandise for the fiscal years of 1869 and 1879 are compared, as follows:

	EXPORTED	1869.	1879.
Agricultural implements		$1,032,530	$2,574,598
Live animals		907,036	9,944,658
Indian corn		6,829,119	10,653,129
Rye		3,500,000	3,630,000
Wheat		24,382,529	133,761,679
Wheat flour		18,133,965	29,698,713
Barley, oats, rye, cotton		32,828,160	161,193,678
Furs and fur skins		18,823,369	4,123,311
Gold coin		13,5,347	11,880,022
Silver button		2,956,533	2,956,533
Gold		4,123,311	4,123,311
Illuminating oil		27,631,042	35,998,862
Bacon and hams		7,482,000	61,074,433
Fresh beef		4,833,080	4,833,080
Salvaged beef		2,405,241	2,405,241
Butter		4,811,034	5,412,034
Cheese		6,437,906	12,578,908
Lard		7,443,548	22,856,673
Preserved meat		18,131,400	7,311,400
Beef		2,021,400	2,021,400
Sewing machines		2,021,581	2,021,581
Refined sugar		4,723,111	6,164,024
Yallop		2,362,630	6,934,549
Lod tobacco		20,000,043	25,157,300
Trunks and valises		1,726,110	2,200,000
Unclassified manufactures		1,726,110	4,138,087
Total Exports		$413,661,115	$717,003,777
Carried on American vessels		137,814,504	122,889,538
Carried on foreign vessels		270,125,671	588,737,317

THE DECLINE OF AMERICAN COMMERCE.

It will be noticed that in 1869 about thirty-three per cent. of our exports were carried in American vessels, while last year the amount was less than eighteen per cent. Every branch of trade in the United States has grown within these years with extraordinary rapidity, except ship building, which has failed. Reference to the above table will show that among all the principal articles of exports, the only falling off within the last ten years has been in precious metals and sewing machines. This is accounted for by the fact that we are now coining our gold and silver at home, and American capital is now manufacturing sewing machines on European soil.

Cotton has not increased in the amount exported in proportion to other products. Statistics show that the annual crop in 1878 was about the same as that of 1869.

Particular attention is called to the immense increase in the shipments of beef on the hoof and slaughtered fresh beef. About nine millions more of live stock was shipped in 1879 than in 1869, or an increase of eleven hundred per cent. While no fresh beef was shipped in 1869, nearly five million dollars' worth was shipped in 1879.

IRON AND STEEL.

The shipments of iron and steel are not included in the above table, because in the report of the Bureau of Statistics for 1869 the different articles of manufacture were not classified as in the report of later years, so a comparison is made below between the exports of 1870 and 1879:

	EXPORTED	1879.
Pig iron		$9,127
Bar iron		2,4024
Boiler plate		3,069
Railroad rails		65,081
Sheet and band iron		3,24</td

NOVEL AND INTERESTING.

The New York Central railroad has an engine that ran 80,000 miles without repairs; the Hudson River one that ran 100,000 miles; and the Delaware and Hudson one that ran 145,810 miles.

A RECENT inventor, hailing from Bushnell, Ill., claims to be able to make hard wood lumber out of common wheat straw, with all the effects of polish and finish which is obtainable on the hardest of black walnut and mahogany, at as little cost as clear pine lumber can be made up for, and the samples he produces would go far toward verifying his claim. The process is as follows: He takes ordinary straw board, such as is usually manufactured at any paper mill is used for the purpose. As many sheets are taken as are required to make the thickness of lumber desired. These sheets are passed through a chemical solution which thoroughly softens up the fibre, and completely saturates it. The whole is then passed through a succession of rollers, dried and hardened during the passage, as well as polished, and then comes out of the other end of the machine, hard, dry lumber ready for use. The inventor claims that the chemical properties hardening in the fibre entirely prevent water-soaking, and render the lumber combustible only in a very hot fire. The hardening finish on the outside also makes it impervious to water.

THE large clock at the English Houses of Parliament is the largest one in the world. The four dials of this clock are twenty-two feet in diameter. Every half minute the point of the minute hand moves nearly seven inches. The clock will go eight and a half days, but it will only strike for seven and a half, thus indicating any neglect in winding it up. The mere winding up of the striking apparatus takes two hours. The pendulum is fifteen feet long; the wheels are of cast iron; the hour bell is eight feet high and nine feet in diameter, weighing nearly fifteen tons, and the hammer alone weighs more than four hundred pounds. This clock strikes the quarter hours, and by its strokes the short-hand reporters regulate their labors. At every stroke a new reporter takes the place of the old one, while the first retires to write out the notes that he has taken during the previous fifteen minutes.

THE greatest cataract in the world is the Falls of Niagara; the largest cavern, the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky; the largest river, the Mississippi—4,000 miles in extent; the largest valley, that of the Mississippi—it's area 5,000,000 square miles; the greatest city park, that of Philadelphia, containing 2,700 acres; the greatest grain port, Chicago; the biggest lake, Lake Superior; the largest railroad, the Pacific Railroad—over 3,000 miles in extent. The most huge mass of solid iron is Pilot Knob of Missouri—height 250 feet, circumference two miles; the best specimen of Grecian architecture, Girard College, Philadelphia; the largest aqueduct, the Croton, of New York—length forty and one-half miles, cost $12,500,000; the longest bridge, the elevated railroad in Third Avenue, New York; it extends from the Battery to the Harlem river—the whole length of the eastern side of Manhattan Island—7 miles long, or nearly 40,000 feet. The longest bridge over water, however, will be that now being constructed in Russia over the Volga, at a point where the river is nearly four miles wide. The most extensive deposits of anthracite coal in the world are in Pennsylvania.

Two things at least, the New Orleans Times believes, are essential to the prosperity of the South. First, peace and order—the protection of the lives and property of all, from the highest to the humblest. Second, financial and commercial integrity—the condemnation of all that savors of repudiation.

THE improved French method of preserving wood by the application of lime is found to work well. The plan is to pile the planks in a tank, and put over all a layer of quicklime, which is gradually slaked with water. Timber for mines requires about a week to be thoroughly impregnated, and other wood more or less time, according to its thickness. The material acquires remarkable consistency and hardness, it is stated, on being subjected to this simple process, and the assertion is made that it will never rot. Beech wood prepared in this way for hammers and other tools for iron work, is found to acquire the hardness of oak without parting with any of its well-known elasticity or toughness, and it also lasts longer.

IMMIGRATION INCREASING.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics furnishes the following information, derived from official returns, in regard to immigration into the port of New York. There arrived at the port of New York during the month of July, 1879, 16,432 passengers, 12,710 of whom were immigrants.

During the corresponding period of 1878, the total number of passengers arrived at the port was 12,650, of whom 8,689 were immigrants. Of the total arrivals at the port during the month of July, 1879, there were from England, 2,641; Scotland, 641; Wales, 96; Ireland, 1,800; Germany, 2,912; Australia, 342; Sweden, 1,556; Norway, 517;

Denmark, 250; France, 235; Switzerland, 230; Spain, 51; Italy, 440; Netherlands, 84; Belgium, 25; Russia, 612; Poland, 103; all other countries, 135.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.

Louisville is just now rejoicing in the success of her Seventh Industrial Exposition, which has been attended by people from the adjacent surrounding country, in much greater numbers than were there last year; the yellow fever epidemic of last year interfering largely with the attendance. The attractions of the present year are fully equal to former Expositions in the essential features, and in some particular the exhibition is the best they have had. This is especially true of the Art Department, which has grown in favor from the first until it has become noted throughout the country as an art exhibition of the highest excellence. One of the principle features of the Art Gallery is the collection of fifty old landscape paintings by Carl Brenner, all of which are to be distributed by drawing at the close of the Exposition. The general display is excellent, and the articles, many of which are very attractive, are arranged in that good taste which is characteristic of the management of the institution. The music is the finest in the country with the single exception of Theodore Thomas's orchestra.

The amusements are first-class in their way, and the popularity of the prestidigitator, the trained birds, and educated dogs attracting crowds of men, women, and children at every entertainment, which occurs three times a day. The wild men of Borneo, and the inimitable Punch and Judy at the other end of the building, have their share of attention; and the wisdom of the Manager in introducing these side-show features is attested by the crowds that always attend these performances.

The sensation of the season, however, is the daring and thrilling performances of the South American celebrities, the "Queen of the Air," Ella Zulia, in her tight-rope performances, and the man Loyal, who is shot from a huge cannon and caught by Zulia after a flight of forty feet in the air. This feature has just been introduced, and is attracting large crowds.

The displays in the Exposition are very creditable, and some of them are unusually meritorious. The letter from our jolly correspondent gives in a pleasant way, a good idea of the Exposition as a whole, but we are disposed to mention a few of the leading features in the mechanical departments.

SADDLES AND HARNESS.

Harbison & Gathright display a magnificent assortment of harness, saddles, and horse clothing. The vivid interest which this firm takes in their great industry is admirably shown in Mr. Gathright's valuable and unique invention in saddletrees, iron horns and gig saddles, besides numerous other inventions of great merit. The sterling gentlemen composing this firm are familiar with the intricacies of the harness and saddlery business, and their insight into the needs of the great trade of the South and West is evidenced by the superiority of their stock in all lines. The firm of Harbison & Gathright stands at the front of the saddle and harness business of the South.

BARCLAY'S BELLS.

Their tuneful music has been heard for many long years, from the everglades of Florida to the broad stretches of prairie by the side of the Red river of the North. The "Kentucky Bell" is probably the best sheep and cow bell in the world—it's fame is national.

BRASS AND COPPER.

Arthur Jones exhibits some of the products of his factory, in the shape of brass castings, copper brands, etc. In this line we would also mention the Eagle Brass Works, Fowler & Co., proprietors.

CORNWALL &amp; BRO.

This firm has filled a large glass case with an attractive display of the products of their factory. They are the makers of the celebrated star candles. Every article in their show case, statuary included, is made from pure animal fat. They also exhibit several fine cases of their standard soaps. The firm of Cornwall & Bro. has taken a place among the foremost manufacturers in the country in the manufacture of soaps and candles.

GILMORE, HITE &amp; CO.

The river trade of the West is under many obligations to this go-ahead house, whose display of boat stores, tents, awnings, etc., is worthy of more than a passing notice. They are now working on a large government contract for tents, etc.

DR. WELKNAP &amp; CO.

The display of this firm comprises almost everything that is made of iron. They are by far the largest jobbers of metals in the Southwest. The house is on a strong financial foundation, and stands deservedly high in the estimation of perhaps as large a number of customers as any in the country.

M'GILL &amp; TRUMAN.

Around the exhibit of this firm can always be found a crowd of the progressive agriculturalists of the Ohio valley. Here may be seen threshing machines, reapers, mowers, and other farm machinery in full operation.

The prices at which these machines are sold are strictly in conformity with the manufacturer's prices, and there is nothing in the line of farming implements, from a hoe to a threshing machine, that is not found in their catalogues.

WOOLFOLK &amp; CO.

This firm, engaged in the manufacture of tents, awnings, tarpaulins, horse covers, etc., and dealers in boat stores generally, make a fine display of their wares. The firm show great enterprise in their exhibit, and are in all respects a most reliable and responsible house.

CARRIAGES AND BUGGIES.

Messrs. Kerr & Robinson are the liveliest carriage men in Louisville. They have a fine display of good work in the Exposition, from which they are making daily sales; and they

THE NEW YORK STORE
THE GREAT DRY GOODS HOUSE OF THE SOUTH!

A Stock of $250,000.

Silks, Black Goods, Domestics

VELVETS, DRESS GOODS, FLANNELS, MERINOS,

Cashmeres, Cassimeres, Jeans, Blankets

GLOVES PRINTS.

A FULL LINE OF

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods!

Unlaundried Shirts, Collars, Cuffs.

Also Laces, Embroideries, Fringes, Ruchings, Ribbons, Handkerchiefs, Ties, Hosiery. A large stock of

LADIES' UNDERWEAR

The largest stock of Ready-made Ladies' Dresses, Ladies' Cloaks, Ladies' Ulsters, Ladies' Dolmans, also Seal Sacques, Fur-Lined Silk Garments, ned.

BRIDAL OUTFITS and Dresses of all Kinds

MADE TO ORDER IN THE BEST STYLE.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

In every case. Special attention given to sending samples when ordered. They are always sent FREE OF CHARGE.

S. BARKER &amp; CO.,

FOURTH STREET, LOUISVILLE, KY.

are selling more vehicles at their warerooms on Market street, than any other carriage establishment in the city. The secret of their success is that they work hard for trade, offer splendid work, and sell at lower prices than ever were heard of before in Louisville. Their advertisement gives further particulars.

BRIDGEFORD &amp; CO.

By far the finest exhibit of stoves, ranges, etc., in the Exposition is that made by Bridgeford &amp; Co. The display of this firm occupies a large space south of the fountain, and their exhibit includes all the different styles of coal and wood stoves, both for heating and cooking, in the manufacture of which this firm has become so justly famous. Their new cooking stove "Kentucky Belle" is meeting with a success that is unprecedented in the history of stoves. It has all the late improvements, including the drop shelf to the oven, etc. The ladies should not fail to see this stove.

WRAMPFELMEIER &amp; CO.

The display of fine furniture by this firm is worthy of a more extended notice than our space will allow. They occupy a large space near the southeast corner of the upper floor. The facilities of this firm are unbounded. Their factory is one of the largest in the country, and their exhibit is only a fair sample of the large stock which they keep on hand at their store on Main street, and contains as fine goods as can be manufactured in the United States.

THOS. MEIKLE &amp; CO.

In the space allotted to this firm may be seen some of the finest plows, cultivators, etc., ever exhibited in this country. The work turned out at their immense establishment is noted for a combination of elegance and durability, that has made it favorably known throughout the vast extent of territory which is covered by their trade.

C. I. CAUFIELD

Makes an extensive display of oil and gas chandeliers, sewer pipe, pumps, and terra cotta goods. This house does a large business in lawn vases and hanging baskets, and their exhibit this year is very fine.

KLEINHANS &amp; SIMONSON.

Wherever the visitor to the Exposition pauses before an unusually fine display of clothing and looks for the name of the exhibitor, he reads the mystic words "Tower Palace," that being the name given the establishment presided over by the gentleman whose name appears above. Their display is most elegant, and is but a fair sample of the stock kept by this go-ahead house, the representatives of the great clothier, Mabley. A visit to their store will well repay the patrons of the Exposition.

LOUISVILLE BUSINESS HOUSES.

DR. WINTERSMITH'S CHILL CURE.

The name of the above gentleman has been made a most familiar one in those sections of the country subject to malaria, for Dr. Wintersmith's Chill Cure has been found an absolute cure and preventive of all descriptions of malarious disease, including chills and fever, bilious, typhoid, and remittent fevers, and all others of that class. Arthur Peter &amp; Co., the great wholesale drug house of Louisville, are the general agents for all of Dr. Wintersmith's famous remedies.

SUTCLIFFE &amp; OWEN.

Louisville is rapidly coming to the front with her shoe trade, and among her leading firms in this line is that of Sutcliffe &amp; Owen. These gentlemen have adopted the wise plan of buying and selling for cash only; and as cash can always buy cheaper than credit, they are enabled to give their customers the benefit of the low rates at which their purchases are made. Merchants visiting the city should by all means inspect the stock of this house.

THE KENTUCKY WAGON MANUFACTURING CO.

This company is composed of some of the strongest business men of Louisville, with ample capital, and is already one of the largest manufacturers of wagons in the country. The president of the company, Chapin Hall, is a large lumber dealer, and has facilities in procuring the material for building wagons which can not be excelled by any one. The large capital invested, and the extent of the

WHEN IN THE CITY
VISITING the EXPOSITION

Call and see us whether you wish to purchase or not, and we will show you THE LARGEST STOCK OF

MEN'S CLOTHING
IN THE CITY.THE LARGEST STOCK
OF

Youths' and Boys' Clothing

IN THE CITY. The Largest Stock of

Children's Clothing!

In the City. The Largest Stock of

Gents' Furnishing Goods

IN THE CITY.

If you buy from us we guarantee to save your railroad fare to and from the city, and on returning home if you find such is not the case we will refund the money on return of the goods.

ONE PRICE TO ALL.

Mammoth Clothing House
TOWER PALACE.

No. 150 West Market Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

WE MANUFACTURE THE

KENO

AND

CAPT. JACK

TOBACCO.

MUSSELMAN & CO.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

BUGGIES, CARRIAGES AND PHÆTONS

SPRING WAGONS
RAFM WAGONS
OF ALL STYLES AND FOR ALL PURPOSES, SOLD AT BOTTOM PRICES.
All work made of the best materials and fully warranted. Price moderate. Send for sample and inspect our work personally before and after it is painted, and judge of its merits. Special information, catalogue and prices sent on application to any one wanting to buy a first class vehicle of any description.KERR & ROBINSON,
MANUFACTURERS and DEALERS.

139 West Market Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

WOOLFOLK & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS

Paulins, Tents, Awnings, &amp;c.

COTTON DUCK and CANVAS all Weights and Widths
Cordage, Oakum, Wire Rope, &c.

No. 30 Fourth Street, LOUISVILLE.

W. B. BELKNAP & CO.,
Manufacturers and Jobbers.Iron, Hardware
AND CARRIAGE GOODS.Bar, Hoop and Sheet Iron
STEEL, METALS, NAILS AND TRACE CHAINS.Screws, Brads, Swede Tacks, Rules
Chisels, Bits, Braces, Hammers, Files and Vises.WHEELS
PLAIN AND PATENT.SPOKES, HUBS, RIMS, SPRINGS, AXLES,
Thimble Skins, Carriage Leather.ENAMELED AND RUBBER CLOTHS
Buckram, Scrims, Oil Cloth.

Skelly Bolts, Fifth Wheels, Axle Clips, Shaft Couplings, &amp;c.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Send for Catalogue and Price. Careful attention to Mail Orders.

BONESET
Bourbon Tonic.A Cordial Invigorant,
Delightful in Flavor,A Wholesome Tonic,
It Builds Up the Feeble.

A pure, generous stimulant, thoroughly fine in all its parts and wholly unlike the various preparations known as "bitters."

We are Wholesale Dealers in Fine Kentucky Whiskies, and from our ample stock we select ripe old Whisky of which this Tonic is made. Not a drop of any other spirit is used. In Dyspepsia, Debility, and malarial troubles it has rival. Nothing can surpass its rich and elegant flavor.

CHAMBERS & BROWN,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

CH